NINE-INCH LENS FOR PHOTOS FROM FIVE-MILE HEIGHT

Aviator's Camera Completed, Including Heating Device to Keep It Warm at Altitude.

By the Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 29.—

The "five-mile high" camera for the Army Air Service long range photography experiment has been completed at the plant of the Eastman Kodak Co. This apparatus will be used by Lieut. George W.

Goddard in a flight soon to be made from Dayton, O., when atmospheric conditions are most favorable.

The eye of the camera is the largest photographic lens ever ground. With its aluminum mounting the lens is nine inches across.

A specially sensitized film is to be used to record light at the infrared end of the spectrum, and the actual size of each negative is nine by nine inches with 100 exposures to the roll of film.

Photographs may be taken from an altitude of 35,000 feet, if the plane can make it, which would show Detroit about three inches long in the picture. Lieut. Gordon hopes to obtain an aerial picture having a panoramic range of 315 miles.

With the lens, the camera, which is about four feet long, weighs 100 pounds, and contains an elaborate heating apparatus, to counteract the intense cold between 70 and 80 degrees (Fahrenheit) below zero, which will be encountered at more than five miles of altitude.

PONZI, DISGUISED AS SAILOR, TAKEN IN NEW ORLEANS

Texas Deputy Sheriff
Traces Him and Upsets
Plan of Promoter to Flee to Italy.

WANTED IN FLORIDA AND MASSACHUSETTS

Troubles in Former State
Due to Land Scheme and in Latter to Coupon Device.

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, June 29.—

Charles Ponzi, sought as a fugitive by Massachusetts and Florida authorities, was arrested here yesterday afternoon by George Lacy, a

Houston (Tex.) Deputy Sheriff. He accompanied the Texas officer to Houston last night.

Ponzi left Miami, June 4. He vigorously denied his identity at first, but finally admitted it.

"It's just as well, anyway," he was quoted as saying. "I wasn't at all sure that I was doing the proper thing in fleeing the country, but I saw that I couldn't save my homeland any money by staying and I had fairly reliable information that I was due to go right up if I went back to Boston, so I just decided to run. It was the only chance—but here I am."

Posed as Sailor.

Ponzi, disguised as a sailor under the name of Luciani Andrea, left Tampa June 15. He went from Galveston to Houston and attracted the notice of Deputy

Sheriff Lacy who was convinced that the sailor fitted the description of Ponzi. The deputy was not able to catch another glimpse of the "Andrea" he believed to be Ponzi, but following a clue that he was aboard the ship Sic Vos

Non Vobis, he went to Galveston, new Orleans and Norfolk remained on the ship's schedule before she was due to proceed to Genoa.

The deputy sheriff came here and communicated with customs officials, telling them that he sought a "swindler aboard an Italian ship. It was explained that it would not be possible to arrest

the man sought aboard the ship, but an inspector was assigned to aid them in an effort to identify the fugitive.

It is understood that Ponzi was prevailed upon to leave the vessel by his selection as a member of the crew who could speak English to check some papers in the dock office.

Taken to Hotel for Questioning.

Reaching the dock he was escorted into a taxicab and driven to a hotel where questions were asked in an effort to establish his identity. Professing but a slight knowledge of English, he retained the character of Luciani Andrea for a time.

The prisoner finally agreed to a program that would take him to Houston or one that would lead directly to Boston. The Texas officer proposed that he be taken to Houston, and the journey was started in a few hours.

Ponzi's only request was that his clothing be taken to the hotel from the ship and his first action after admitting his identity was to shave

REED RAKES "LOAN" OF F. C. BAIRD TO BE DRY EXECUTIVE

from the Federal force after a service of 16 years. Wright was extremely vague as to why he was let out. Tatro was summoned from Chicago, where he had been doing "amazingly good work" in connection with a statement he was about to make regarding the enforcement situation in Chicago.

Called on Carpet and Fired.
Blair had him on the carpet. When he got back to his station he received a notice of dismissal. Wright started to expatiate on the good qualities of the agent. "We want no dissertation on his virtues," admonished Reed. "Just stick to the questions."

The other man who was dropped was C. E. Sprague. Wright explained that this was because the prohibition unit was having to cut down its staff. Mr. X had also been on the Federal service and had resigned from it.

"He resigned under charges, didn't he?" snapped Reed. "He resigned because he was about to be transferred to a post to which he didn't want to go," said Wright. They finally got their cast of characters straightened out on a private memorandum. Reed seemed to take a malicious delight in calling off the names he had conferred on the four sleuths.

Mr. X Still on the Job.
"Mr. X," said Wright, "is with me still. He has not been known at any time. If his name should be published, the effects of his work would be nullified."

Reed was content for the time being, to have the name for the private use of the committee. He began to dig vigorously for the previous history of Mr. X and his fellows.

"Mr. X," said the witness, "has been an investigator for a great many years, he was with me during the war."

"Has any of these men a criminal record?" asked Reed. "I think," replied Wright, "that Mr. Z got into some difficulty in connection with his automobile work. I can't say just what it was."

"It was for stealing an automobile, wasn't it?" asked Reed. "Not at all," replied Wright. "It had something to do with a garage of which he was part owner. A car was found in it which contained liquor and Mr. Z was brought up and discharged."

Faced Liquor Charge.
"He was charged with bootlegging liquor himself, wasn't he?" asked Reed. The witness did not think so, but Reed drove the point home that Z had faced some sort of charge for the possession of liquor. Wright said that Z and Zero were employed by Y, out of the latter's expense account, and that Y "had entire confidence in them."

Wright went on to tell how the W. C. T. U. Bureau had come to employ Mr. Y. He had been working for the Government in Florida, and had gained an extensive and expert knowledge of the liquor shipments from the South into Philadelphia. Wright digressed to remark that more hard liquor was being produced in the Philadelphia district than anywhere else, and that more was stored there than in any other district except Kentucky. He cited these facts to show the magnitude of the enforcement problem and explain why the W. C. T. U. Bureau enlisted the services of Mr. Y. as an investigator.

Didn't Get the Liquor.
"Did you get the liquor?" asked Reed, dryly. "That's the unfortunate part of it," replied Wright. The gallery laughed.

"We would have got the liquor," went on Wright, "if we had had the co-operation of the Federal authorities. The flow of alcohol into illegal channels could be stopped over night. District Attorney Buckner has done it in New York."

"Let's keep to the record," said Reed. "You don't know what Buckner has done in New York."

At the opening of the session, Senator Pepper, whose unsuccessful race for the senatorial nomination in the recent primary cost more than $250,000, appeared voluntarily to answer two charges made before the committee. He denied that he had been instrumental in procuring the transfer of Baird from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia just before the primary.

It has been charged that the transfer of Baird from Pittsburgh was a political maneuver of the Pepper forces, designed to give the impression in Pittsburgh that Pepper was "liberal" on the liquor question.

Pittsburgh, it was said, was thrown "wide open" after Baird left.

Charges About North Dakota.
The charge of a slush fund in North Dakota were made to the committee in writing on behalf of Nye, a Republican and a candidate for re-election. The Coolidge administration was declared by D. H. McArthur, secretary to the Senator, to be backing an effort to defeat the Senator, and the committee was assured that every suspicious circumstance that may surround tomorrow's North Dakota primary would be reported to it for study. The charges were made by D. H. McArthur, Nye's secretary.

McArthur said the administration's purpose was to send to the Senate L. B. Hanna, campaign manager for President Coolidge in North Dakota in the 1924 campaign. Specifically, it was stated that the fund was being used to make a house-to-house canvass in North Dakota to get out the vote on election day.

McArthur also told the committee that "a lieutenant of L. B. Hanna recently appeared in Washington and is known to have conferred with the interests now under investigation. The last seen of him in Washington was at the Union Station with his suitcase in hand, taking a train for the West."

Hanna Manager Denies Charge Made by Nye's Secretary.

By the Associated Press.

FARGO, N. D., June 29.—Complete and specific denial that any money from sources outside North Dakota had been received or used in his campaign for the Senate was made today by L. B. Hanna, administration Republican candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination.

What is behind this new demand?

— The Growing Public Impatience With Old Motor Car Standards

Almost from its appearance eighteen months ago, the beautiful Hupmobile Eight took the lead as the largest-selling straight eight in the world.

This was accomplished through sheer merit—for no loud and ringing fan-fare of advertising trumpets accompanied its advent.

Almost immediately, too, the success of the Hupmobile Eight began to influence the trend to public thinking.

Furthermore, it started within the industry a readjustment to meet the demands of a new buying desire and intelligence.

It began to be more and more obvious that never again would the American public be satisfied, in the fine-car field, with old standards of performance and value.

Owners of highest priced eight-cylinder cars were amazed to find that the Hupmobile Eight gave them impressively finer performance, with almost startling economy of investment, operation and upkeep.

At the same time, owners of the higher-priced cars of types other than the eight-cylinder, began to discover the inherent shortcomings in those cars.

So a large section of the public, believing that these other types were destined to pass into the lower price levels, began to act accordingly.

What this means, of course, is the invasion and the eventual taking over of the higher priced field by the equally fine but less extravagantly priced eights, as exemplified by Hupmobile. Every day, all over America, new hundreds are added to the thousands who know through experience the utterly different kind of performance which the Hupmobile Eight affords.

Every day sees the growth of the new tendency on the part of the public—and the new efforts of the industry to satisfy the greater expectation which the beautiful Hupmobile Eight has created.

THREE CONFERS ON KANSAS CITY MERGER WITH L. C. G. OFFICIAL

Combination of K. C. Southern, Katy and Cotton Belt to Preserve Corporate Identities.

ALL STREET PAPER OUTLINES PROPOSAL

Merger to Be Built Around Kansas City Line, Which Has Improved Earnings Record.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—A conference, presumably to go over the details of the plan for a southern railroad merger, was held today between L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson, and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Kansas City Southern, and C. D. Mahaffie, director of the Bureau of Finance of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The consolidation has been outlined to comprise the Kansas City Southern, the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the St. Louis Southern Railroad (Cotton Belt). It is understood to provide for a unified system, with each road retaining corporate entity.

Street Journal Outlines Merger Plan.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Wall Street Journal today prints the following on the proposed merger of the Kansas City Southern, Missouri-Kansas-Texas and St. Louis Southern:

"Plans of L. F. Loree for his Kansas City Southern system, to include the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the St. Louis Southern, have been put into final form, except for a few legal details and will be placed before the Interstate Commerce Commission."

"Counsel for Loree will submit plans, which will inform the commission how much stock of the city and Cotton Belt roads has been purchased by Kansas City Southern and what additional stock of Kansas City Southern has available."

"Plans also will describe methods by which Kansas City Southern intends to exercise control over the other two roads and to what extent it will control their operations. It is likely that plans will provide for retention by the three roads of their corporate identities. Operations will be simplified and expenses reduced through more unified operating control, consolidation of shops, traffic agreements, etc."

"The plan is not expected to follow the Vanderbilt-Swanton-Nickel plan, principally in that it will not make stock exchange obligatory. It is even possible that no exchange of stock will be offered for the same being, each of the three companies having their individual minority stockholders."

"K. C. Southern Earnings." Kansas City Southern, nucleus of the proposed new Loree Southern system, is maintaining a record of earnings which promises to make 1926 the best year in the history of the road, barring unforeseen reverses. Following an excellent April showing, May gross was the best ever attained for that month, with the single exception of May, 1923.

"In this connection it may be noted that the 1923 year as a whole produced net earnings for Kansas City Southern, with gross of $22,485,999 and a balance after charges and preferred dividends, equivalent to $6.45 a share on the $29,929,900 common stock."

"Significant of the good operating results and low ratio of expenses to gross achieved by the Kansas City Southern management is the fact that, whereas gross increased about 1.7 per cent in May over May, 1925, railway operating expenses increased 1.7 per cent, ratio of operating expenses to gross was 64.3 per cent for the month, against 70.6 per cent in May last year. The April ratio was 64.27 per cent, comparing with 72.20 per cent in April, 1925."

"The record since the first of the year has been consistently good with substantial monthly gains in gross and net over the corresponding months of last year. Neither is the low operating ratio the last two months apparently mere flash in the pan."

"For the five months ended May 31, operating expenses took only a little over 65 cents out of each dollar of gross against more than 72 cents in the corresponding period 1925. Until 1925 Kansas City Southern had not had an operating ratio below 70 per cent since 1917. Last year it was a trifle below 65 per cent. Furthermore, the volume of gross is much larger than in 1917 and it looks as though might this year exceed the previous record of 1923."

"The Katy, the largest road in the proposed combination, so far 1926 has not been making very favorable comparison with 1925. To certain adverse crop conditions prevalent last year and restricted in traffic in the early months of the present year."

ST. LOUIS TAKEN FOR $4500 ROBBERY

at Cape Girardeau, Mo., Are Partly Identified in Payroll Hold-up at Memphis.

AUTOMOBILE USED IN THE CRIME

Arrest Caused by St. Louis Detective Who Was Familiar With Their Police Records.

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—The well-known St. Louis characters are under arrest here last Saturday in Memphis, as a result of their chance meeting here yesterday with Detective Robert "Tex" Bourland, a crack pistol shot of the St. Louis Police Department.

The prisoners are Leo Tighe, Frank Lamke and Ben Bethel, all of whom have been identified as participants in a $4500 payroll hold-up at Cape Girardeau, Mo., June 27.

Authorities here have advised that warrants will be issued against the four men today for their extradition to Tennessee to answer the charge.

The prisoners, all of whom claim to be innocent, stand in the hallways of the hotel where they are being held, awaiting their application for bail today.

Bourland's Part in Case. Bourland has been here for several days assisting Department of Justice agents from St. Louis in an investigation of an automobile robbery which he dropped into a garage yesterday and his attention was attracted to two Studebaker automobiles bearing Illinois license plates.

On making inquiry he learned that the machine had been left in the garage by three men, who were expected to return shortly. He searched himself in the garage and found a few minutes when the men came in and made in-quiry about the time of arrival of a man from Memphis.

Bourland recognized the men as Tighe, Frank Lamke and Ben Bethel, another St. Louis character. He stepped from his place as the trio got into the automobile, which has been identified as one of the two of the payroll robbers.

He followed the car a short distance from the robbery and saw the men get out of the car and enter a building.

On suspecting Bourland, the three men recognized Bourland and fled. Bourland, however, arrested the other two. Then local officers met the next day and local officers met the next day and local officers met the next day.

Following the arrests Bourland communicated with his superiors in St. Louis and was instructed to identify the men as participants in the payroll robbery.

He did this and last night three employees of the Cole Manufacturing Co., which was the employer of the men, were called here to view the men and make partial identifications.

All four men and identified the men as participants in the payroll robbery.

He and Bethel have served time for robbery in Booneville, Mo., while Lamke has a record of more than 20 arrests in St. Louis, according to information furnished here.

Scammon, a Hogan character, is under a five-year sentence for participation in the Mound City Trust Co. robbery in St. Louis last year, and who was held there by a Coroner's jury for homicide in connection with the murder last March of James Moody, a former convict.

Whether the two automobiles left the garage here by the prisoners are stolen machines has not been determined. Records show license plates on the cars were for Ford automobiles, one a woman at Roodhouse and the other a woman at Staunton.

AMBASSADOR SHEFFIELD HAS NO "LIGHTER MOMENTS" Says at Luncheon in Mexico City in Honor of Cartoonist Fitzpatrick.

MEXICO CITY, June 29.—United States Ambassador Sheffield, in address at an American Chamber of Commerce luncheon last night, said that an ambassador's job was not to have any lighter moments.

He was referring to published statements here that in his lighter moments he was interested in journalism and art.

Sheffield added that even in his darker moments he was interested in journalism.

The Ambassador was a guest at luncheon given in honor of D. Fitzpatrick, cartoonist of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who is visiting here.

The Ambassador said that journalism was most effective in exposing wherein was contained the truth.

Cartoonists talk with chalk, but not with brains," he said.

Fitzpatrick and the noted Mexican caricaturist, Ernesto Garcia, entertained the guests with exhibition of their skill.

ARMS EXPERTS CAN'T CLASSIFY WAR SHIPS

Geneva Delegates Vote It Is Impossible to Use Types as Basis of Comparison.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, June 28.—Something new again emerged at Geneva when the naval delegates decided that it was impossible even for them to distinguish between types of warships.

This decision was another factor in the fight led by the French and Italians against employing the tonnage of classes of ships as a means of comparing the strength of navies.

The French and Italians merely want total tonnage considered, without any emphasis being laid on categories, such as battleships and submarines, in the construction of which they prefer complete liberty of action.

A question arose yesterday when the British introduced a motion asking "whether it is possible to divide roughly combatant naval units into classes in such a manner as to convey to the naval mind the distinction between them."

Great Britain, the United States, Japan, Chile and Argentina voted "yes," but six nations—France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Poland and Belgium—voted "no." Eight countries abstained from voting.

A Joke Battleship.
To justify Italian opposition, the Italian Admiral asked his colleagues what they would call a battleship which mounted only three-inch guns. Rear Admiral Hilary Jones of the United States, rejoined: "I should call it a joke."

The naval experts adopted a resolution that the total number of guns which are or can be mounted on warships is the factor to be taken into consideration when making the guns a basis of comparison. Only guns of a caliber exceeding four inches are to be counted.

Six countries, including the United States, Great Britain, Italy and Japan, abstained from voting.

On the recommendation of Brazil, the experts voted to include also the number and caliber of torpedo tubes carried by warships as a factor of comparison. The same four countries abstained from voting.

LENROOT DENIES HOOVER SET PRICE OF WHEAT IN WAR TIME
Letter of President Wilson Put in Record to Answer Attack Made by Reed.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 28.—Answering an attack on Secretary of Commerce Hoover, made recently in the Senate by Senator Reed (Dem.) of Missouri, Senator Lenroot (Rep.) of Wisconsin, has placed in the Congressional Record several documents showing how the price of wheat was fixed during the World War on advice of a commission appointed by President Wilson.

Responsibility for the war-time price fixing was attributed to Hoover by Reed, who sought to show that Hoover, then food administrator, had been actuated by a policy inimical to the most interests of the farmers.

One of the documents put into the record by Lenroot was a statement by President Wilson, putting into effect the price recommendations of the special commission and saying that at his own request Hoover had taken no part in the deliberations, "nor has he in any way intimated an opinion regarding that price."

Honduras Disavows Envoy's Action.
By the Associated Press.
SAN SALVADOR, June 28.—The Government of Honduras has disapproved the action of Alfredo Trejo Castillo, its delegate to the recent Pan-American Congress at Panama, in asking for the independence of Porto Rico from the United States. Senor Castillo's credentials were canceled by his Government.

30 SKELETONS DUG UP BY SEWER EXCAVATORS

Human Bones in What Appears to Have Been Trench on Old Bircher Farm.

More than 30 human skeletons were unearthed yesterday and today in Thrush avenue at the intersection of Kingshighway North-west by excavators digging a trench for a sewer.
The bones were turned over to Coroner Vitt, who expressed the opinion that the advanced state of decay indicates that burial probably took place more than 50 years ago.
Thrush avenue and Kingshighway at this point are little more than lanes, and there is no city record of a cemetery in that vicinity. Many years ago the property was the Bircher farm.
The bones were all found in what appears to have been a trench about four feet wide and running along what now is Thrush avenue. This fact, according to the excavators, disposes of any theory of a cemetery, and the further fact that the skeletons were found very close together or lying over one another, gave rise to a theory that it might have been an emergency burial of persons who died in an epidemic of cholera or some other scourge.
Indications point to burial of all the bodies at the same time.

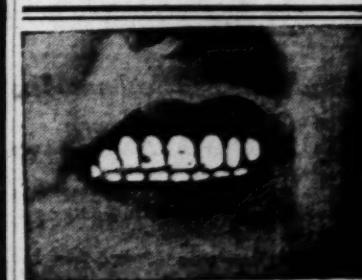

ALFONSO'S BUSY VERSATILITY FINDS FAVOR WITH PARISIANS

Spanish Ruler Does a Little of Everything: Goes to Races, Addresses Academy.
Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)
PARIS, June 29.—King Alfonso of Spain has gained fresh popularity on his present brief visit in Paris.
He went to the Grand Prix with the crowd, mixed with the audience at one of the most Parisian of shows, lunched with the President, talked politics with Deputies and Senators at a dinner, danced with a gay set in Montmartre, shopped on the boulevards, bought his Queen frocks in the Rue de la Paix, gave an interview to an academicien, sipped aperitifs in company of the bourgeoisie, visited an art exposition, and read a paper on the influence of French art on Spanish art, at a sitting of the Academy of Fine Arts. All this he did in the space of two days.
Members of the academy say the King showed real erudition in his paper. To Robert de Flers, the academicien who interviewed him, Alfonso offered to take him absolutely unaccompanied through the worst quarters of Madrid just to show how quiet and orderly the population really is and show the close friendship existing between the King and the people.

FIGHT CALL FOR HAGUE PARLEY

Five Democrats in House Oppose Tinkham Resolution.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 29.—Five Democrats on the House Foreign Affairs Committee have issued a statement opposing the Tinkham resolution for a third Hague Conference for codification of international laws. The resolution was reported by the committee last week.
The five opposing it—Representatives Linthicum of Maryland, Connally of Texas, Moore of Virginia, Edwards of Georgia and Reynolds of Tennessee—contend that President Coolidge already has such authority and that at present "the other nations almost certainly would refuse the invitation on the ground the League of Nations is engaged in this work."

POLICE WITHOUT CLEW IN PAROLED ROBBER'S MURDER

Harvey J. Dunn Apparently Shot Near Spot Where Body Was Found at Horseshoe Lake.

ONLY ONE WITNESS CALLED FOR INQUEST

His Mother Says He Attended Church Services With Her at Mission the Night He Was Killed.

Little progress has been made in the investigation of the murder of Harvey J. Dunn, 19 years old, convicted highwayman, whose body was found yesterday morning on the Sand Prairie road at Horseshoe Lake, Madison County. He was identified through fingerprints by an expert from St. Louis Police Headquarters.

It was announced at the coroner's inquest, to be held in Granite City this afternoon, there would be only one witness, Christ Spoeneman, a night watchman who discovered the body when on his way home.

A farmer's wife residing in the neighborhood, Mrs. Katie Pruetzel, who told a Post-Dispatch reporter that she heard a shot fired about 10:30 p. m. Sunday, was not expected to be called. She remarked to her sister, she related, that it was peculiar for any one to be shooting at that hour, which she fixed by her kitchen alarm clock. She felt certain it was a shot she heard, being familiar with firearms.

Conclusion as to Killing. Deputy Coroner Tate of Granite City, an undertaker, expressed the opinion that death had occurred about the time of the firing of the shot. In his belief Dunn was killed at or near the spot where the body was found.

Dunn's funeral will be at 2 p. m. tomorrow from an undertaking establishment at 907 Chouteau avenue, with burial in New St. Marcus cemetery. He was shot through the right ear, and the way his body was sprayed indicated he had been thrown from an automobile. A large bloodstain on the ground showed that this occurred shortly after he was shot, and a heavy powder burn around the wound showed the weapon was fired at close range. His left eye was blackened and puffed, probably in a struggle just before the shooting.

Police records state that Dunn entered Booneville Reformatory Oct. 28, 1924, under a three-year sentence for a street holdup, and was paroled on Sept. 25 last. He resided with his mother and younger brother and sister at 900 Hickory street, until Saturday, when his mother, a bag factory worker, changed their home to 1910 North Eighth street, to get him away from the neighborhood of the Cuckoo gang. Dunn's parents are separated, his father, Edwin, living with an older son at 2412A (rear) North Fifteenth street.

Statement of Mother. Mrs. Dunn told the police she saw Harvey last after they attended church services at a settlement house near their old home Sunday evening. He walked west in Ruger street from Eighth street, saying he would be home soon. That was a few hours before he was killed. Dunn was arrested Aug. 6, 1924, for carrying a concealed weapon, but was freed of the charge.

The body was in a lonely spot, a mile and a quarter east of Mollenbrook's Grove, a fishing resort five miles east of Granite City. There have been a number of murders in this vicinity since it became the manufacturing center of a large bootlegging business. Bodies of Constable Omer Hockert and his friend, John Balke, who were assassinated by moonshiners, were found across the lake last year. The latest of a number of other murders in the region was that of an East St. Louis woman dance hall cashier.

Speculation about the murder of Dunn suggests it might have been the work of moonshiners, automobile thieves, bank robbers, holdup men, narcotic peddlers or been runners.

SIXTH VICTIM OF EXPLOSION
DIES IN ALTON HOSPITAL

Alcide Brandt, 30, Was One of Workmen Burned at Standard Oil Plant in Wood River.

Alcide Brandt, who was burned two weeks ago in an explosion at the Standard Oil Co. plant in Wood River, died yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital in Alton, the sixth death as the result of the explosion. Two men, William H. Kohn and Joseph Luppens, were killed instantly, and Frank Gland, Harry Kingery and Bert Huff died from effects of burns. One man who was badly burned, Harold Bryant of Wood River, was taken home Friday from St. Joseph's Hospital.

Brandt was 30 years old and married. Besides his widow he is survived by his father, two brothers and four sisters. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

'PRINCE TOVALOU' SENTENCED TO PRISON IN AFRICA

Negro, Who Sailed From U. S. With Wealthy Chicago Woman, Convicted of Swindling.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, June 29.—A smooth and polished black "Prince," who once was received in Chicago as a distinguished guest, has arrived at a prison in Dahomey, Africa, after various adventures in New York and Paris along the way. Le Matin is advised.

Prince Kojo Tovalou Houenou, who left New York Oct. 17 with Mrs. Harry N. Knowlton, a wealthy white woman of Chicago, and her 7-year-old daughter, is charged with swindling several persons of a total of $15,350. A Mrs. Moody, an American, Le Matin says, accuses him of swindling her out of $350. The Negro "Prince" was arrested and imprisoned shortly after his arrival at Cotonou, in Dahomey.

Some time ago, he was ejected from a Montmartre cabaret because Americans objected to him. He sued the management of the cabaret, was awarded damages and the manager was fined.

"Prince Tovalou" was arrested

MILLIONAIRE HELD FOR MURDER OF WIFE

Eugene M. Elliott Either Pushed or Caused Woman to Fall, Police Charge.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., June 29.—Eugene M. Elliott, millionaire developer and organizer, today faced preliminary hearing on charges of first-degree murder in connection with the death of his wife.

Mrs. Elliott died Saturday night as a result of a fractured skull, which, police say she suffered in a fall from the door of the Elliott home on to a concrete sidewalk. Though testimony before a coroner's inquest yesterday was not made public, police charge that Elliott either pushed or caused his wife to fall.

The fatal fall followed Mrs. Elliott's return home from a conference with Crockett Owen, her attorney, who had filed divorce proceedings for her. She never regained consciousness at the hospital where she was taken.

Husband Under $25,000 Bond. Elliott was arrested immediately following his wife's death. He was recovering from a series of operations and police permitted his removal to a hospital where he remained until Sunday when he was taken to jail at Clearwater and later released under $25,000 bond.

Chief of Police E. D. Vaughan, who has conducted the police investigation into the tragedy, said Elliott told him that his wife lost her grip on the door and fell backward, striking her head on the pavement.

Vaughan said Elliott declared that when his wife returned from the conference with her attorney he ordered her away from the house. When she determined to enter, he said, he locked the front door. When she appeared at a side door he bolted that also, he told police. Then Mrs. Elliott ran to the back door and as she was coming into the house, fell, he declared.

Testimony of Servants. A Negro maid, 22 years old, saw Mrs. Elliott enter and then she turned to her stove. She heard the door slam and a scream from Madeline Elliott, the daughter, who was standing in the yard. As the Negro turned back again she said she saw Elliott rush out and pick up his wife's body. The butler, chauffeur, seated at the doorway of a servant house near by, heard the door slam and then saw Mrs. Elliott fall, police said.

Mr. Owen told officers he feared for Mrs. Elliott to return home following the afternoon conference. He said Elliott had driven by the house in an automobile, had stopped, but, without speaking, drove on again. Owen urged the woman to telephone the home before going. This she did, he said, leaving with her daughter a few moments later.

Mrs. Elliott's divorce bill filed the day of her death, alleged extreme cruelty and infidelity. It set forth that Elliott had threatened her life should she bring suit for divorce.

"Butterbeans" and "Susie" Take Market St. by Storm

Negroes Turn Out With Limousine and Band to Welcome Stars in St. Louis-Made Movie Comedy.

There was a big parade for Butterbeans and Susie along Market street yesterday afternoon, although part of the band forgot to bring their instruments and the marching airs had to be carried by a cornet, a trombone and a bass drum.

If one looked very hard into the shadows of the limousine which headed the procession, one could have made out a shiny Negro man (Butterbeans) and a plump Negro woman (Susie) who bowed right and left and smiled at Market street which seemed to have gathered to itself half the Negro population of St. Louis.

The smile of Butterbeans, which has "knocked 'em dead" in the biggest vaudeville houses of Harlem, and the expansive good-nature of Susie were accepted as votes of thanks by their admirers. Spectators blew horns and waved handkerchiefs. Butterbeans and Susie would have been ungrateful indeed had they failed to appreciate the welcome given them yesterday.

Best since Negro K. of P.'s According to bystanders interviewed at the Booker T. Washington Theater it was the best parade seen on Market street since the Negro Knights of Pythias turned out three years ago.

Butterbeans and Susie, be it known, are not only a vaudeville team of much popularity among Negroes, but phonograph artists; and they came to St. Louis on the 2 o'clock Burlington from Quincy, Ill., yesterday to be the stars of St. Louis' first all-Negro motion picture. This picture, entitled "Nine Lives" is a two-reel comedy and is being made by the Colored Motion Pictures Industries of America, Inc., Room 414 People's Finance Building, Jefferson avenue and Market street. All the actors and actresses except the stars are amateurs chosen from local talent.

Long before the prominent visitors were due a large crowd of flappers, young bloods and older patrons of the cinema had assembled on the concourse of Union Station. Outside, a motoring holidaying party assembled band, about 26 taxicabs and one limousine were waiting. Market street had been decked with flags and bunting.

Armful of roses for Susie. As soon as Susie appeared she was surrounded by a crowd and Butterbeans also drew his coterie. Susie wore a blue traveling dress and stylish turban and was preceded by a band of brass instruments.

$119,000 SHORTAGE CHARGED IN ALABAMA STATE FUNDS
 Former Prison Camp Warden, Facing Murder Trial, Said to Have "Padded" Payrolls.

By The Associated Press. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 29.—Charles E. Davis, former Warden of Flat Top, convict camp, facing charges of murdering James Knox, an inmate at Flat Top prison camp in 1921, is accused of disbursing $119,282 from the treasury of Alabama through falsified affidavits. In a report by State Examiner Brooks.

The audit covers the entire period of Davis' regime at Flat Top. Davis is charged with having caused the shortage through forgery and "padding" of payrolls. State Examiner Brooks, in the report, charges that expense accounts and requisitions for supplies involving thousands of dollars were falsified, usually by Davis and occasionally by his son, Charles R. Davis Jr., former Deputy Warden of Flat Top, through the use of the name "J. W. West," a notary public, on affidavits without the knowledge of the notary.

ARTHUR C. BURCH, ACCUSED OF KENNEDY MURDER, WEDS
 Co-Defendant With Madalynne Obenshain in Three Trials Married Three Months.

By The Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Arthur C. Burch, co-defendant with Madalynne Obenshain, formerly of Chicago, in their trials for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy here several years ago, has been married three months. It became known today.

Burch refused to tell his wife's family name, but said that her given name was Anne and that she came from the South. They are living in Pasadena. Burch and Mrs. Obenshain were tried three times, but each time the jury disagreed.

Wants Wood in Furniture Named.
 The Better Business Bureau, in a series of letters and bulletins, has asked St. Louis furniture dealers to adopt the "Name the Woods" standard recently approved by the Federal Trade Commission. The principal rules are that furniture be designated by the name of the wood in its exposed surfaces, or if composed of more than one kind of wood, by the names of the principal woods used. There also are several secondary rules which would tend to prevent misunderstanding on the part of the purchaser.

IN FOR TEN YEARS FOR MURDER, OUT AFTER 18 MONTHS

Gus Webbe, 21, Cuckoo Gangster on Parole From Boonville, Arrested Again as Robbery Suspect

ACCUSED OF HOLDUP NEAR COLLINSVILLE

St. Louis Police Pick Him Up—He Is Released Once More on Bonds Totalling $31,000.

The arrest of Gus Webbe, 21 years old, Cuckoo gangster, on a charge of complicity in the assault and robbery of a party of tourists near Collinsville, Ill., last Thursday, was the first official notice St. Louis police had that Webbe had been paroled from the Boonville Reformatory after serving only 18 months of two concurrent sentences of 10 years' imprisonment for participation in two murders.

Webbe was arrested at his home, 1119 south Tenth street, by detectives under Sgt. Carroll following the identification of Michael Jones of Collinsville as one of two men who had beaten Wayne and Roscoe Deahl of Lincoln, Neb., and robbed their wives of $354 on the Maryville road, near Collinsville, Thursday night.

Sgt. Carroll had heard rumors that Webbe was in town and, knowing that he was acquainted with Jones, surprised the gangster at his home Sunday night. Webbe was identified by the Deahl brothers and their wives as the man they met in East St. Louis Thursday and who took them to Jones from whom they had expected to purchase a bottle of alcohol.

After being questioned at Police Headquarters yesterday afternoon, Webbe was allowed his freedom on bond totalling $31,000. The release was effected by William Baer, an attorney, who appeared with M. and J. Webbe, relatives of the gangster, Joseph Schuler and J. Slay, a bondsman, all of whom attached their signatures to the bonds. Three of the bonds, of $10,000 each, are for charges of highway robbery, and a $1000 bond was signed in a charge of assault to kill. The bonds, which were accepted by Judge Gayer of the Court of Criminal Correction, are to secure Webbe's responding when extradition proceedings to Madison County, Ill., are completed.

The arrest also leaves police uncertain as to Webbe's age. At the time of his first arrest in 1921 he gave his age as 17 years. When booked yesterday he said he is now 21 years old.

The murder charges against Webbe resulted from the slaying June 10, 1923, of Patrolman William Griffin in Telegraph Inn, St. Louis County, and the murder the same night of John Sargent, who drove the machine in which Griffin's murderers left the scene. Clarence Daniels, Ollie Hamilton and Leo Cronin, Cuckoo gangsters, were given life terms for the murders. Webbe, who claimed to be 19 years old at the time, was allowed to plead guilty in Circuit Court here and in St. Louis County to charges of second-degree murder, and was given concurrent sentences of 10 years' imprisonment.

Webbe's transfer to Booneville from the State prison was made on the recommendation of Circuit Attorney Sidener and Prosecuting Attorney Adam Henry Jones, Jan. 8, 1925. Sidener cited the youth of the prisoner and said he was "the least guilty of all connected with the case."

Superintendent Harrison at the Booneville Reformatory told the Post-Dispatch over the long distance telephone today that when Webbe was paroled he was sent to Boston where he was to be married. He was paroled to a relative in Boston, Harrison says. About a month ago, according to Harrison, Webbe returned to St. Louis to attend the funeral of his father. Two weeks ago he went to Booneville and told Harrison he was not married. The Boston girl and asked permission to remain in St. Louis to be with his mother. Harrison told him he would take the matter up with the parole board, but as yet had not done so.

PROPAGATE 5,000,000,000 FISH

Hatcheries Handled 48 Species: Potomac Shad Disappearing.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 29.—Progress in the fish propagation program of the Government is shown in a report by the Bureau of Fisheries, placing the 1925 output of fish culture stations and the rescue fields bordering the Mississippi River at 5,001,562,583 fish and fish eggs. Forty-eight species were handled, and eggs, principally of trout, were shipped to five foreign countries.

The Potomac shad, says the report, is rapidly disappearing, and notice is served that if this important fishery is to be maintained the states concerned must enact and enforce stringent protective legislation.

OPEN VERDICT BY JURY IN DEATH OF MRS. BRITTINGHAM

Gilbert Candy, Her Father, Testifies She Had Been Under Treatment of Nerve Specialists.

An open verdict was returned today by a coroner's jury after an inquest into the death of Mrs. Mildred Candy Brittingham, 38 years old, of 6163 Kingsbury place, who fell or jumped from a third-floor window of her father's home early yesterday morning.

The father, Gilbert Candy, an official of the Busy Bee Candy Co., testified that Mrs. Brittingham has been in a highly nervous condition and under the treatment of nerve specialists.

Walter Winn, Negro chauffeur employed by Candy, said he was awakened about 3 a. m. by groans, and leaving his room in the garage, found Mrs. Brittingham, clad only in a nightdress, unconscious on a granitoid pavement beneath the window. She died five hours later at St. Luke's Hospital of a fractured skull.

Mrs. Henry D. Barto, of 5546 Page boulevard, a nurse who took care of Mrs. Brittingham, said that Sunday evening she and her patient had been out for an automobile ride, returning about nine o'clock. Mrs. Brittingham retired a short while later. Testimony showed that the screen on the window of her room had been raised and she apparently had stepped to the roof of a second floor bay window directly beneath, from which she either leaped or fell.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced, pending the arrival of Mrs. Brittingham's husband, Thomas Brittingham Jr., of Chicago. The Brittinghams were married here in 1921 and the wedding was a notable social event.

PAPAL LEGATE THROUGH M... OF C...

Cardinal Bonzano
Cathedral in State... on Arriva

The arrival last night of John Cardinal Bonzano, Papal Legate to attend the consecration of the St. Louis Cathedral, brought outpouring of thousands, comparable only to the visits of world leaders during the World War. The forecast for tonight's Solemn Procession of the Most Blessed Sacrament a throng far beyond the capacity of the few blocks allotted for onlookers.

Tier upon tier of men, women and children banked the lawns bordering Lindell boulevard, facing the arrival platform at Union and Lindell boulevards. From that point for more than a mile eastward the Cathedral, both sides of the street were lined from three to rows deep and in the long block between the Archbishop's residence at Taylor avenue and the Cathedral, thousands were gathered. The Cathedral itself was jammed to its doors to observe the Cardinal Legate at his devotion and to receive from him the papal blessing. Later when the prince of the church turned after mounting the steps of the Archbishop's residence, he looked down into a sea of returned faces and there went to him three rousing American cheers which brought a broad smile to his face.

Red Special Not Here.
The Cardinal Legate was accompanied by Patrick Cardinal O'Donnell, primate of all Ireland (he is the ranking one) and archbishops, bishops and members of the Legate's retinue, numbering persons. The famous red special train, which carried the foreign Cardinals from New York to Chicago, did not come to St. Louis. The Cardinals rode in a railroad official's private car attached to a four-car special train.

Three of the Cardinals who were expected did not arrive. Patrick Cardinal Dubois of Philadelphia, as do many continental Europeans, to grasp fully the duties of the American continent. He made an engagement to be in Montreal yesterday, thinking that he could run down to St. Louis overnight.

Cardinal Piffi, primate of Austria, went yesterday from Springfield, Ill., to Omaha, Neb. George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, host of the great Eucharistic Congress last week, was wearied exhaustion and asked to be excused from the journey to St. Louis.

Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich and primate of Germany, arrived by automobile during the afternoon from Springfield, Ill.

Patrick Cardinal Hayes of New York, who arrived Sunday night, viewed the procession from the lawn of his host, John S. Leahy, at 4639 Lindell boulevard, and waved greetings as the cars passed.

The Cardinal Legate stepped from the observation end of the car at 7:25 o'clock onto an inclined platform carpeted with gold and white. Papal colors, Archbishop Glennon, clad in blue robes trimmed with the purple of his office and wearing the purple biretta (four-cornered hat) trimmed with a purple tassel, stepped forward, grasped Bonzano's hand. They touched cheeks, and then the other. The Archbishop uttered no formal welcome and Bonzano just smiled.

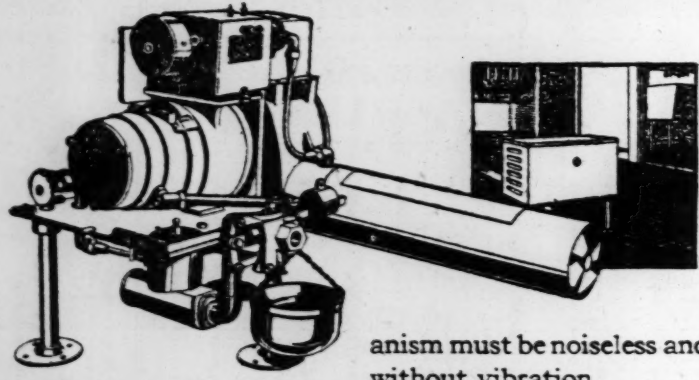

The huge crowd had welcomed the train's arrival with a resounding salvo of handclapping, but when the Cardinal Legate looked out over them and smiled, restraint broke bounds and a tumult of cheers ascended—a tumult that rolled unbroken down the line as the march up to the very doors of the Cathedral to sink there to a respectful hush.

The procession was led by an open car in which the Papal Legate and the Archbishop rode. Forty other cars followed. In each two members of a reception committee in full evening dress, even to top hats of various shapes, of previous condition of servitude, escorted some one of the Legate's party. Mayor Miller headed the committee.

The Cardinal Legate wore black robes, piped with scarlet. A scalloped band encircled his waist and cape of scarlet watered silk draped down his back from the shoulders. He carried in his hand the Cardinal's broad, flat, black hat, with a broad band of red and gold, and a long in the back in a wide fringe tassel. He removed this immediately upon stepping from the car and thereafter carried it in his hand. On his head was the scarlet and gold, the small, tight-fitting priest's skull cap.

The line of procession was broken into behind the cars of the Cardinals by Catholic societies, Italian predominating, that bore aloft bright banners, emblazoned with gold. A little Italian band marched and blew industriously and almost continuously. Men, women and children crowded in

Your NU-WAY will be Well Tested

THE financial resources of The Nu-way Corporation enable the company to test, in actual working conditions, every Nu-way that is made.

In the plant at Rock Island, Illinois, there is a big test room with all types of heaters, in skeleton form to make observation easy. In that room every Nu-way is tested—not merely inspected. It must respond to all controls, automatically and instantly.

Atomization and combustion of the oil must be perfect. Ignition must be positive. Leaks must be impossible. The mechanism must be noiseless and run without vibration.

These tests and the inherent simplicity of Nu-way insure satisfaction without service and long life without replacement of parts. There are fewer moving parts in Nu-way than in any other burner operating by the four fundamental laws governing perfect combustion of oil.

PAPAL LEGATE PASSES THROUGH MILE-LONG LANE OF CHEERING PEOPLE

Cardinal Bonzano Escorted From Train to Cathedral in State by Archbishop Glennon on Arrival Last Night.

CARDINAL HAYES DENOUNCES TREND TO MATERIALISM

New York Prelate Warns Against Present "Joy-Philosophy," in Sermon at Consecration Service.

CALLS WORLD TO SCHOOL OF CHRIST

Pays Tribute to Archbishop Glennon in Whose Term the New Cathedral Has Been Erected.

A trenchant attack on the materialistic tendencies of modern philosophy was made today by Cardinal Hayes of New York in his sermon at solemn pontifical mass at the New Cathedral, after the consecration of the edifice.

"As long as Satan spreads abroad error and sin, working through the mass of humanity into ruin and despair, the mission of the Church is not yet done," he said. "In the person of the bishops, priests and people, she carries on unyielding warfare against 'the god of this world,' who, as St. Paul teaches, 'hath blinded the minds of unbelievers, that the light of the Gospel of the glory of Christ should not shine upon them.'"

"It is her steadfast purpose to shed the rays of her truth and charity amid encircling darkness, lest Satan seduce souls by bedecking hideous lust with the shining robes of purity, specious error with the noble form of truth, and brutal selfishness with the modest demeanor of virtue."

"Satan Does Not Change."
"Times may change but Satan does not change. From the beginning to the present hour, weak, selfish man has fallen away from truth and virtue through the lying promise of divinity with which Satan deceived our first parents. The false gods that Satan alone can fashion, and only from the slime of human passion, are of the devil's own image and likeness. They too, like Satan, set themselves up as gods of this world, the measure of all truth, all order and all interests, yet they think to measure God Himself."

"Being a law unto themselves, they refuse to bend their intellects to the elementary rules of logic for the acquisition of truth, they scorn to train their wills to observe the restrictions of law for the sake of good order; they utterly disdain to shape their conduct by the rights of justice for the purposes and the well-being of society."

False Prophets of Science.
"False prophets of science there are, none so bold and decisive as when, donning the mantle of pure reason, they sit in judgment on God and man and life. Let them appear in the role of astronomer, they will sweep the heavens with the telescope and declare that forces and matter alone are God. If the study of man be their choice, they will try out and test and weigh the elements of the body, in search of a soul, only to affirm that a vital, spiritual principle cannot exist apart from the body. The prophet of pure reason hesitates not to rush in where life's values are most sacred, into the realm of morality. He can only understand that brute instincts are the determinants of duty and conduct. Self-preservation is exalted as the first law of nature, and pleasure as the supreme quest of life. To exclude fear and sin from the field of vision is accounted common sense, and the new wisdom, the first postulate of the 'joy philosophy' of the present hour."

Results of "Ungodly Creed."
"Who can gauge the profound misery and darkness and disorder which this ungodly creed has already let loose upon the world? Natural man selfish to his fingertips, cruelly, aggressively selfish, is alone with himself. Here is the tap-root of his darkness, his anguish, and despair. He who was endowed with an intellect to know God and with a will to love God—created by God a little less than the angels—now finds himself in a vast universe of matter and force, a vast more than a gnat. God is become for him the guess of a worm in the dark, the shadow of its being, utterly impoverished by the loss of faith, unspeakably saddened by the loss of the presence of God. This blind creature who aspires to divinity, flings himself at the door of the world's dark, hopeless tomb, crying like a child in the night, 'God, God, truth that shall free him from the tyranny of self, the light of truth, the life of truth, and the law of truth, for Christ, the living, the enlightening, and eternal truth of the ages.'"

The Lesson of the Cross.
"The world must go to school again to the school of Christ, there to learn the lesson of the cross. For, if the book of history be read with honest mind—the book wherein

Reception of Pope's Legate on Arrival in St. Louis

TEXT OF POPE'S COMMISSION TO CARDINAL BONZANO TO ATTEND ST. LOUIS RITES

At the end of the ecclesiastical procession into the cathedral this morning, for the solemn pontifical high mass celebrated by Cardinal Bonzano in connection with the consecration of the cathedral, Msgr. Tannath, the pastor, read the apostolic appointment from the papal first in Latin and then in English. This was followed by an address to the Cardinal by Archbishop Glennon. The text of the appointment follows:

"To our beloved son, John Bonzano, of the title of St. Susanna, Cardinal Priest of the Holy Roman Church:

"Our beloved son: Greeting and apostolic blessing.

"Knowing the auspicious twofold celebration to take place shortly in the diocese of St. Louis, on the coming feast of the prince of the apostles—the solemn consecration of the cathedral church and the centenary of the erection of the diocese itself—in response to the petition of the Most Rev. John Joseph Glennon, the zealous and illustrious archbishop of the diocese, we appoint you, our legate to the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago, to preside over these solemn ceremonies.

"Inasmuch as whatever there is of increase of faith and piety is most dear to our heart, we gladly accede to the wishes of the pastor of that cathedral church and his beloved people. We grant this wish all the more willingly since we know the province of Chicago at one time formed a part of the diocese of St. Louis and that your predecessor in the apostolic delegation at Washington held the cornerstone of this new temple.

"Wherefore, by these presents we commission you, our beloved son, in our name and by our authority to assist at these sacred ceremonies and to rightly consecrate this magnificent new cathedral church.

"Furthermore, we trust that this two-fold celebration may inspire the faithful with a greater love towards this apostolic see, and that they may advance daily in the practice and fulfillment of religion, which alone can bring peace and prosperity to a nation.

"Meanwhile, as a harbinger of the divine gift and as a testimony of our paternal interest to you, our beloved son, to the Archbishop of St. Louis, to his clergy and his people we impart that apostolic blessing."

"PIUS XI, Pope."

Foes Invade Farinacci Stronghold With Newcomer Telling of Bank Crash Scandal.
Corvett, 1926, by the Press and Politics Publishing Co., (New York World)

CHIASSO, Switzerland, June 29.—There was rioting in Cremona Sunday, following the arrests in Parma, Cremona and Florence, Saturday, in connection with the scandal after the crash of the Agricultural Bank of Parma. Squads of anti-Farinacci Fascists from Parma entered Cremona. The constituency of the deposed Secretary-General of the party, with bundles of the Corriere Emiliano, giving news of the scandal. Copies were distributed freely on street corners.

As a result fierce clashes occurred between Cremonese and Parma Fascists. Revolver shots on both sides were wounded. The Cremona Fascist charge that Minister of the Interior, Federoni organized the Parma Fascists with the purpose of provoking disorders which might be used as a pretext for police action against the followers of the scandal. It has been shown that those responsible for the mismanagement of the bank were arrested about two months after their guilt was indicated, and then only under strong pressure.

God has written large and clear—it will be seen that the cross is the key to the world's progress and civilization, that the cross of Christ is the magnet drawing God to man and man to God, that Christ crucified is the revelation both of God and of man.

"He is the word made flesh, the image of the invisible God." In the early centuries it was through the preaching of Jesus Christ and him crucified that the church drew under His yoke the legal-minded Roman, the philosophic Greek and the untamed barbarian, teaching them

Senator Williams Saved by the Alphabet.

Wet Hopes on Illinois.

Also on Ohio.

WASHINGTON, June 29.
HAPPY is the Senator whose initial comes near the end of the alphabet. The roll is called by the alphabet, beginning with Ashurst and ending with Willis, and the Senator who is called late is able to vote with fairly complete knowledge of what the result will be. It has often been charged that Senators voted for measures to which they were opposed, knowing that the measures would be beaten anyway, and hoping that the vote might make some political capital for them.

Next to last on the ballot is the name of Senator Williams (Rep.) of Missouri, who is up for re-election this year. Shortly before the vote on the McNary-Haugen farm bill Thursday, he made a speech violently attacking certain provisions of the bill, and it was generally understood that unless those provisions were eliminated he would vote against the bill. They were not. When his name was reached the score stood 43 to 37 against the bill. He voted FOR the bill. This department proposes a roll, enabling the clerk to call the roll from the bottom upward. The present custom is manifestly unfair to such men as Borah, Bayard, Brookhart, and Bruce. Until that is done, we can only advise voters to pick 'em close to the top of the alphabet.

WASHINGTON, June 29.
HAPPY is the Senator whose initial comes near the end of the alphabet. The roll is called by the alphabet, beginning with Ashurst and ending with Willis, and the Senator who is called late is able to vote with fairly complete knowledge of what the result will be. It has often been charged that Senators voted for measures to which they were opposed, knowing that the measures would be beaten anyway, and hoping that the vote might make some political capital for them.

Next to last on the ballot is the name of Senator Williams (Rep.) of Missouri, who is up for re-election this year. Shortly before the vote on the McNary-Haugen farm bill Thursday, he made a speech violently attacking certain provisions of the bill, and it was generally understood that unless those provisions were eliminated he would vote against the bill. They were not. When his name was reached the score stood 43 to 37 against the bill. He voted FOR the bill. This department proposes a roll, enabling the clerk to call the roll from the bottom upward. The present custom is manifestly unfair to such men as Borah, Bayard, Brookhart, and Bruce. Until that is done, we can only advise voters to pick 'em close to the top of the alphabet.

FRANCE BEGINS NEGOTIATIONS FOR U. S. BANK LOAN

Executive of Bank of France Finds Head of New York Reserve Institution Friendly.

DEBT ISSUE SOON UP TO PARLIAMENT

Ministerial Statement Declares Government Will Not Permit Any Infringement on Independence.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, June 29.—Parliament soon will be called upon to take the responsibility of ratifying or rejecting the Washington debt funding agreement, say the declaration of policy of the new Briand Cabinet, which was read before both houses this afternoon.

Charles Rist, new Vice Governor of the Bank of France, and a member of the committee of experts which is advising Finance Minister Caillaux, has opened negotiations for credits with the American Reserve Bank and the Bank of England.

Rist already has held several preliminary conversations by telephone with Gov. Strong of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, and with Gov. Norman of the Bank of England, both of whom are in France. Their attitude was said by one of Rist's associates to be friendly toward the French proposal.

The Chamber of Deputies today voted confidence in the new Briand government, giving it a majority of 162.

The vote came on a demand from the Premier that negotiations on the financial situation be postponed. He made the question one of confidence in the new Government.

Will Preserve Independence.
"It does not overlook that settlement of the interrelated debts is one of the helps necessary to a sound, reasonable stabilization. Consequently, the urgent duty of the Government is to put Parliament in a position to decide this question. It is already before both Houses, and they will very soon have to take their responsibilities upon it."

Meanwhile the Government proposes to pursue the necessary negotiation with the greatest energy in order that, in the shortest possible time, the whole problem may come before you (the Parliament) and that when the moment arrives you will not have to ratify an agreement with one of the creditors without knowing the obligation that will weigh upon the Treasury as a result of the accords with the other creditors. (The two creditors referred to are the United States and Great Britain.)

Another high spot in the declaration is the assertion that all policies must be laid aside for the present, and all interests centered upon the solution of the financial problem.

The declaration outlines a policy of revision of taxes, cuts in the general income tax and the tax on stocks and bonds to be compensated for by increases in other taxes and more rigorous collections.

All idea of restoring the gold value of the paper franc is rejected. The immense loss of riches through the war, the declaration says, can find a counterpoise only in an accepted reduction in the purchasing value of the paper franc.

EXPLAINS POLAND'S AMBITION TO PERMANENT LEAGUE PLACE

Foreign Minister Zaleski Says Can- did Co-operation With Other Powers Is Only Reason.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 29.—The Vossische Zeitung today publishes an interview with M. Zaleski, Polish Foreign Minister, dealing with Poland's desire for peace and the country's attitude toward the League of Nations.

"Poland, like all Europe since the war," said Zaleski, "wants peace, which is necessary to the internal reconstruction."

"Our attitude toward reconstructing the Council of the League of Nations and Poland's membership in it is unchanged. Our demand for a permanent seat in the Council is not indicated by national egotism, but by a realization that candid co-operation with the other League of Nations Powers is imperative. Such co-operation is impossible so long as Poland is unable to have an active part in League of Nations decisions."

"Obtaining a seat is of vital importance, not only for us, but for all who desire the restoration of Europe. The League pact have been signed by Poland, and there is no indication that the treaties will not be lived up to."

NEW PEST ON ILLINOIS CORN

By the Associated Press.

BENTON, Ill., June 29.—Farm Adviser E. E. Glick is endeavoring to classify a new insect that is threatening to destroy corn crops in this section. Large fields of corn are being eaten down by the bug which resembles the Southern sugar cane beetle.

The young stalks are cut off just above the roots. The presence of the bug has been detected on a half dozen widely separated farms in this county. The State entomologists office at Urbana has been asked to help classify the insect.

Senate May Defer Rivers Bill.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—In an effort to pave the way for adjournment of Congress at the end of this week, Senate leaders have begun a quiet campaign to obtain an agreement to let the rivers and harbors bill go over until the next session with a fixed date for taking it up under limitation of debate or for a final vote.

Senator Williams' Straddle.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
SENATOR WILLIAMS, in his recent opening appeal for my party's nomination for Senator, gave an evasive statement of his personal views as to present day deplorable conditions and the remedy, if any. He talked all around the subject and ended by saying nothing. He used both hands in patting his audience on their backs. He began by warming up to the wets and ended by hugging the dries. He prefers the blind to lead the blind. He prefers drifting to leadership. He prefers to let his tongue alone or more accurately, had enough alone.

Where was the courage he showed on the World's Court question—on which, like the Prohibition question, voters in both parties held opposite views? Professional prohibitionists have always refused constructive leadership, one way or the other, for solving this most urgent and vital problem; and our present Senator proved conclusively that he had his cue. If he is unwilling to accept the responsibility of constructive leadership and really prefers that his great party be a "Do and Know Nothing Party" and that it be better so to continue drifting onto the rocks, then he should withdraw and leave the field of honor to Priest and Proctor.

Until the present Volstead law is recognized as the dominant issue by all voters, the vexing question of "Successful Prohibition vs. Practical Temperance" will not be solved—a profound public peril, that all fervent professional prohibitionists piously pray may, profiting personally of course, persistently be ever pending over our boys and girls.

If the Democratic party shows the good sense to nominate Congressman Hawes and the Republican party likewise nominates our present Senator, the telling effect of an aroused public opinion may cause a change of heart on what is and what is not a political question and on the political advisability of a drifting dry policy and party—and may furnish a timely and necessary remedy for an intolerable state of affairs.

LAW AND ORDER.

To Film Producers.

A PROMINENT producer of the Paramount Film Co. is authority for the statement that the public "wants the star more than it does the story." Most of us have foolishly cherished the idea with the Bar of Avon that "the play is the thing." What the producer probably meant to say was that the public wants the star more than it does the kind of productions now offered to it. The motion picture trust having strangled competition, has killed the "goose that laid the golden eggs." Lincoln was right.

OBSERVER.

Comfort in Faith.

PERMIT me to contend against the despairing view of "M." in the letter headed in "Life's Tragic Mystery." It is regrettable that one of advanced age and experience as "M." should show pessimism as only those in ignorance of spiritual life can do.

There is only one answer, one solution. "M." should replace his medals of war with medals of faith in God. He says that as soon as we begin to understand life, we see, unless "blinded by false teachings, only oblivion after death." What an abundance of error condensed into that one sentence! Firstly, we do not begin to understand life until we come to learn the reason back of the scheme of things, and to know, believe and hope in the divine Scheme. Secondly, we see oblivion after death only when we are blinded by too great love for earthly joys. Godliness lends death a comforting tint of transparency.

"M." dwells on the great sorrow of children upon losing their mother. True this is pitiable as we humans compare. But who shall deny that it may be a blessing? The children's minds, wandering frequently during life to their departed mother, will find in the thought deeper gravity and counsel than other children consider more gifted—providing their substituting protector does her duty. And, above all, what matters a lifetime of joy or sorrow compared to the eternity of just deserts to follow? I translate "M.'s" written protest as a distressful cry of his soul. But why does he invoke human beings, who are as weak as he, instead of invoking his Creator as millions are doing daily? What? There is no God? Then, what is this force behind the winds, the sun, the stars, the waves, and even the human mind which denies its creator? Who is He for whom more than a million people from all over the world have defied the elements, to attend the International Eucharistic Congress and adore? Be explicit. I want to know. And in the meantime witness the faith of St. Louis as evidenced in the dedication of the New Cathedral, and the celebration of the centennial of Catholic diocese in this city.

UNDER-COVER GOVERNMENT.

A witness in the Pennsylvania primary has told how the fund raised by the W. C. T. U. and turned over to Gov. Pinchot for the enforcement of the dry laws was administered. A special bureau was created, with well-paid staff officers, who were provided with orderlies.

Those orderlies are called "under-cover men." It is their job to discover places where liquor is sold and report to headquarters, which would arrange the raids. The identity of these men was never revealed in the subsequent prosecution. The reason is obvious. Once known, their usefulness is destroyed, or seriously impaired. Their identity has not been disclosed at the hearings in Washington. They are spoken of in the reports as X, Y, Z, etc.

Those anonymous tags somewhat nettled Senator Reed, who remarked that "this committee does not believe in 'under-cover government.'" That is the general attitude. A spy by any other name is just as offensive. He is repulsive to the normal man. But enforcement of the dry laws seemingly requires such creatures and such service. In any event, Gov. Pinchot and the estimable W. C. T. U. have approved this detail.

Gen. Andrews himself approves it. In his request for $29,000,000 for prohibition enforcement he lists an item of $200,100 "for salary and expense allowance of 51 under-cover agents." But unlike the Pennsylvania bureau, which is a private concern, privately operated and financed, the Andrews proposal would legalize this activity. It would bestow on them the dignity and respectability of official commissions.

The "under-cover man" is no stranger. He is a familiar figure. His prototypes slink furtively around the ugliest corners and through the foulest shadows of history. His presence always connotes tyranny or criminality.

The "under-cover man," as sponsored by Gen. Andrews, is one more entry in the price of prohibition. It is a portentous entry. Gen. Andrews has declared for "under-cover government," whose other name is terrorism.

A FOOLISH RESOLUTION.

Members of the Central Trades and Labor Union who know as much about law as the average lawyer knows about plumbing or carpentry have adopted a resolution criticizing Attorney-General Gentry's conduct of the Rutherford case and expressing a vote of confidence in Circuit Attorney Sidener. The vote of confidence was all very well if it reflected the honest opinion of the body, but gratuitous charges against the Attorney-General of Missouri, impugning his motives and making silly inferences of a plot by the Chamber of Commerce were mischievous and unwarranted by the facts.

This exhibition of entire willingness to acquit Circuit Attorney Sidener before he has stood trial, coupled with the vicious attack on Attorney-General Gentry, appears to be part of the same cloth with the campaign of vilification which defense lawyers in the Rutherford scandal have been carrying on. St. Louis organizations, if not in sympathy with Attorney-General Gentry's sincere effort to investigate the Circuit Attorney's office, at least owe him and the office he represents the courtesy of a truthful interpretation of his official behavior. Wild accusations such as contained in the Central Trades and Labor Union resolution only make the organization voicing them seem absurd.

MRS. ULYSSES RETURNS.

Los Angeles now knows all about the kidnapping of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson. Satan was at the bottom of it, and it was his counter offensive after all the years she has belabored him and his works. The evangelist told a crowded house all about it at her temple last Sunday morning, and the incident may be said to be closed. The police, as usual, are working desultorily on the case, but it was all over the thick heads of the police.

It will occur to many people that this was not like the devil, who usually operates aboveboard. He never in his life did a job surreptitiously. Nevertheless, the matter will rest there, the devil will add one to his long list of abominations, and Los Angeles will continue to revel in a mythology that rivals that of the ancients. Perhaps the wanderings of Mrs. McPherson in Mexico are not the same thing as the wanderings of Ulysses. Perhaps Jason, who sought the Golden Fleece, was not the prototype of the wanderer who has come home to her temple to garner the harvest of five and ten dollar bills.

Nevertheless, to a good many people it will seem so. They will look wonderingly upon the City of the Angels, curious to understand a community that can support such an anachronism. One comforting thing about it is that this kind of religion moves steadily westward and on its next move will disappear in the Pacific.

THE BIG BUSINESS OF POLITICS.

The Antislavery League's finances pile up impressively under the Reed committee's searchlight. The other day its 30-year budget showed receipts and disbursements of $35,000,000. That total has now leaped to $60,000,000. And Mr. Wayne B. Wheeler as a witness has not yet spoken his last word. The books at Westerville, O., have yet to be examined.

The public reaction to those figures has not yet crystallized. The sentiment of dry extremists can, of course, be discounted. It will approve every red cent, bless every act, sanctify all the coercion and strategy—from the "boose, lying and bribery" confessed by Pussyfoot Johnson to the intimidation and cajolery recited in Mr. Wheeler's memoirs, a benediction for it all.

Thoughtful citizens will do some pondering. With little reflection they will realize that the Antislavery League, in point of magnitude, has been the Standard Oil or Henry Ford of political organizations. They know that poverty was the portion of the league's infancy and youth. The Westerville books, presumably, will show the rise to affluence. It is a fair guess, probably, that the money began to pour in about 1910. If that is correct, the bulk of the $60,000,000 has been spent in the last 16 years.

No other political organization has ever had such resources. Tradition has always credited the Republican party with a "barrel," but the G. O. P. is a piker compared with the Big Business of the Antislavery League.

Pennsylvania has won notoriety as a spender, but that primary was a sprint. The Antislavery League has staged a Pennsylvania Marathon.

THE USEFUL PAROLE.

When, the other day, some Nebraska tourists, passing this way, were brutally beaten, almost killed and robbed over near Collinsville, the Illinois authorities, cognizant of the Missouri custom of paroling criminals to pursue their callings, checked up on those known to be at large, and the result was the arrest of Mr. Gus Webbe and his identification as one of the robbers.

Mr. Webbe, who is a member of the well-known Cuckoo gang, is presumed to be spending 10 years in the penitentiary at Jefferson City for helping to kill a policeman and a chauffeur one night. He pleaded guilty, so there must have been something to it. One of the killings was in St. Louis and the other in St. Louis County, so he pleaded in both. In each he was given 10 years, but as a special kindness he was permitted to serve the sentences concurrently. It might be supposed that a double-barreled sentence like that would keep him there, but not so. He had been there only a little while when Circuit Attorney Sidener and Prosecuting Attorney Jones of St. Louis County pleaded for him to be sent to the Booneville Reformatory, because he was a young man, one of the youngest members of the gang, in fact, with a long life before him.

Getting transferred to Booneville is the next thing to getting transferred out of doors. It is that easy to get out of Booneville. So, when young Mr. Webbe had been there only a little while he was paroled, so that he could continue his interrupted career.

One advantage of this is that there is never a shortage of criminals. It facilitated that little job over near Collinsville. Two were needed for that. The man in charge looked around for an assistant. There, ready to serve, was young Mr. Webbe. So the business in hand was promptly and properly attended to. If the paroled man had not been on hand the opportunity of beating and robbing the tourists might have been missed. It is comforting to know that as long as the supply of paroles holds out no really important crime job in this vicinity will fail for lack of manpower.

THE RACE OF PATHFINDERS.

The three young Omahans, who cattle-cabooseed their way to the Transmississippi golf tournament and won several trophies, do not know how they are going to get to the Western amateur at Minneapolis next month, but, like the explorers, they are confident of getting there.

Still in their teens, they have chosen to dip into the life of Ulysses for a time and sense the romance of new worlds. What a glorious departure from the ruts and grooves! How it appeals to the Viking in man's blood and the Peter Pan in his heart!

Andree lies frozen in the Arctic. The keels of Drake are sunken in the sand. Boone's footprints and the campfires of Clark have faded from the Indian trails. The breastplates of the Spaniards are smudged of rust. But the race of pathfinders goes on. Amundsen has floated over the unknown and Byrd has roared across the pole, and there is yet a glitter in the irons of Jack, John and Frank and a powerful threat in their muscular arms.

"Strange eagles in strange skies," new Pacifics, lost worlds! How thrilling to gaze upon, even from a cattle car! Most of us have to go to books for it.

Dean Inge thinks if we had not freed ourselves from the British they would by this time have separated from us anyway, so we only beat them to it, as usual.

LOOS THINKING.

For a time it seemed as if there was no way to convert the absurd postulate advanced by Anita Loos that gentlemen prefer blondes. We knew it was a piece of loose thinking, but the American public appeared to agree with her book. They bought and bought. These very vulgar anecdotes of a moronish goldigger have found a heavy sugar papa in the reading public and are going to make the price of several diamond tiaras before their run in the form of a play and a comic strip is ended.

Now, however, we have the author, as Lorelei would say, up to her neck in raspberry jam. She goes to Berlin and, being a blushing blonde, tells the blond Germans that blond women always will be preferred. Men love blondes, she declares, not for their hair, their eyes or other graces, but—"It is the blond soul they prefer."

This contention has no basis in fact. It is indefensible from any moral, immoral, theological or pagan argument. No evidence has ever been advanced to suggest that there is such a thing as a blond soul. Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who have done some research on the point, declare that all souls are made of ectoplasm and are of light gray or whitish color. Furthermore there are countless divines in this land who will assert that blondes of the type Miss Loos says gentlemen prefer, have no souls at all, or if possessed of souls their color is far from blond. And finally, no lesser authority than Miss Fanny Hurst has declared that the souls of goldiggers are made of bright pink or crimson crepe de chine.

Someone wants to know how to avoid crowds on the Fourth. The best way would be to go around where the orators used to identify this as the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"MOVING DAY" ON OLIVE STREET.

Observers passing through Olive street between Twelfth boulevard and Channing avenue see an increase day by day of the "Forced to Vacate" signs, some storekeepers permitting themselves but 30 days to make the inevitable move. Building movers' signs are in evidence, indicating that some of the more substantial buildings may be set back the required 40 feet. Most of the buildings are too old, and of too cheap a structure to bear moving, which is just as well, as it is to the interest of St. Louis to have as many handsome new buildings erected on the widened street as possible.

For the next year or more this part of Olive street will be a continuous show, with the wrecking of scores of buildings, the moving back of others, and the work of the city and United Railways creating one of Greater St. Louis' greater thoroughfares. It will be especially interesting to see what treatment will be given the comparatively few large, substantial buildings.

Here is an opportunity to improve Olive street architecturally and once for all remove all traces of the "blight" that has so long impaired property values and made a central commercial avenue undesirable and unprofitable.

THE CANDIDATE MAKES A SPEECH.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I presume you are ladies and gentlemen. Were there the slightest doubt in my mind as to your status, I should call for a vote on the matter before addressing you as such.

Some people believe editors, lawyers and poets should be hung. Some of them wish they had been. Love is deep and divine and has a hidden meaning—so with true poetry. The throne of public opinion is made of wind and some time will blow away. The crowd of times places the dunce on the wrong seat.

You'll find in a book what you read into it. Eternity has never been created. A well learned, intelligent, conscientious, constructive critic is a useful genius—and never too soon a little tin horn, to attract attention from the crowd. Crooks do not think in straight lines. Some modern politicians seem to think an honest man belongs in an insane asylum. Some people read verses all their lives, but never read a poem.

Monks stop to snoop at the key hole. Back slappers always pat your enemies. A dog makes a man ashamed of his disposition.

The controversy between the ladies and the gentlemen that is raging in the "Letters" column will not disturb the serenity of our disposition. We know that, no matter what the girls say about the boys, the girls eventually will make up.

Among the purple shadows
Lovers secret trysts have found,
And the old bull frogs are croaking
In the marshes all around.

The little crickets chirping
Oh I love the cheerful sound;
There are thousands in that chorus,
They so plentifully abound.

Oh it's June time, June time,

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

PRESENTED last night at the Garden Theater, Moliere's "Don Juan" did more than justify its glory as a masterpiece of elegant, implacable mockery. It towered aloft in addition as the most valiant deed ever adventured in the playhouse. Even today, after 251 years, as that blazing and impetuous wit flared along the stage, one seemed to hear the screech of the wheel, the rustle of the fiery snake.

The fable of Don Juan Tenorio of Seville, debauchee, assassin and infidel, was one of the most edifying and lucrative themes of the seventeenth century. Every troupe of strolling players had its tragedy of the miscreant nobleman whom floods at last swept away to unending torment. The story goes that Moliere was importuned by his company of actors to provide them also with a "Don Juan."

Moliere a Philosopher.
He was eminently the man for the task. His temper, as a comic writer, was not that of the buffoon, but of the hero and rebel. As a scolding, he made a translation of the "De Natura Rerum" of Lucretius himself a remorseless foe of dogmatism. Moliere's favorite occupation, we are told, was to "talk philosophy."

Under his hands the legend was transformed. A pious homily was turned into a ribald farce, and a godless villain was elevated into a paladin of free intelligence. With one of the most brilliant inspirations of malice, he created Sganarelle, the hero's scurvy and craven lackey, to serve as a mouthpiece for the play's moralizing, and placed on his lips a burlesque of a sermon which is one of literature's triumphs of derision.

Assassin's Popular Idols.

In fact, the legend served him merely as a cord on which to string a rosary of gay and deadly onslaughts against all the darling fetiches of his generation—and even also, for that matter, the romantic sentimental chivalry, the nobility, mercenary holiness, trade, filial reverence, medical quackery and in particular religious superstition were the targets of his glittering shafts. Small wonder that the medical men and the church doctors suppressed his play after the second performance.

As Moliere has recast the narrative, Don Juan, accompanied by his flunkies, deserts Donna Elvire, whom he has lured out of a convent, and pursues a new amour in the name of "Narrowly escaping death by shipwreck, he celebrates his deliverance by wooing two peasant girls at once with superb virtuosity, but leaves them on discovering that Elvire's brothers, with a crew of assassins, are seeking him.

Master and man disguise themselves, and Sganarelle's robe of a physician, which instantly fills him with a passion for argument, gives rise to a debate on the science of medicine which is one of the jewels of comedy. With the gallantry of a true Hidalgo, Don Juan saves one of Elvire's brothers from death. Happening then on a chapel raised to Elvire's father, slain by Don Juan in a duel, he invites the dead man's effigy to sup with him.

A Sardonic Finale.

A tailor comes to dun Don Juan for a bill, and is felled by his rapid-fire questions about the creed. His wife, that of his wife, of his little dog. The scapegrace's father, and Donna Elvire herself, come to implore him to mend his ways. His conventional expressions of repentance are converted by Moliere into an exploit of brilliant hypocrisy. In truth, at the end, the playwright dutifully consigns his hero to the bonfires of Tophet. But the play ends with Sganarelle peering into the flaming abyss and beating with his fists at the portals of hell as he shrieks after his vanished master, "My wages, my wages, my wages!"

The English version employed, a remarkably smooth and eloquent one, is said to be the only uncensored translation in existence. It was directed by Thomas Wood Stevens, director of the production. The performance, with special distinction for Arthur Smith in the immortal role of Sganarelle, which Moliere himself acted; Hubbard Kirkpatrick as Don Juan, Helen Forrest as Donna Elvire, and Ellen Lowe as Charlotte. An audience of choice spirits attended the work with infinite relish.

Technical Innovations.

In addition to his spiritual rebirth, Moliere in this opus challenged many technical traditions. He had first of all the hardihood to cast his play in prose instead of verse. He threw the laws of the unity of time and place to the winds. Then, in the peasant scene, he used dialect for the second time in the French stage, the pioneer of this realism having been Cyrano de Bergerac in "Le Pedant Joue." In the writer's opinion, there

Critically Hurt When Hit by Machine.

Mary Tedeschi, 5-year-old daughter of Vincent Tedeschi of 1421A Cass avenue, was injured fatally at 7:15 p. m. yesterday when struck by an automobile in front of her home. She died an hour later of skull fracture.

The driver, Leon Jimerson, 1625 Benton street, was arrested. He and other witnesses said the child ran from the north curb to a point eight feet from the south curb, then turned and ran back in front of the automobile which was moving west.

The child's death brought the number of vehicle fatalities for the year to 76, 13 less than in the equivalent period of 1925.

Wilton Bryant, 12 years old, of 4034 North Broadway, is in a serious condition at city hospital, with a compound skull fracture and internal injuries suffered last night when he ran across Broadway, near Bremen avenue, behind a northbound street car and was hit by a southbound automobile. The driver, Arthur J. Moss, an assistant at the North End Rowing Club, 4200 North Wharf, was arrested.

Three other persons were less seriously injured in accidents yesterday.

Man, 86, Struck by Auto June 6,
Died of Injuries.

Julius Lang, 86 years old, proprietor of a shooting gallery at Creve Coeur Lake, died at city hospital last night of injuries suffered June 6, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Philip Baumgarth, a carpenter, of 1484 Belt avenue, when crossing the street near his home, 1236A Hodiarnont avenue.

Lang was treated at his home until June 12, when he was removed to the hospital. He refused to prosecute Baumgarth, who has been ordered to appear at the inquest.

Negro, Whose Auto Killed Girl, Held for Man-slaughter.
William Johnson, 73 years old, a Negro of Edwardsville, was charged with manslaughter in the death of Miss Bernice Howe, 17, of East St. Louis, who was killed by Johnson's automobile early Sunday on Cahokia road, south of East St. Louis. The charge was made in a warrant issued after an inquest in the death of Miss Howe and Edward Taylor, 26, a Negro of Edwardsville, who died as Johnson's machine rolled down an embankment.

Testimony was that Johnson and the eight other Negroes in his car had been drinking at a Negro resort on Cahokia road, and were racing with another car when the accident happened. To avoid a parked machine, Johnson swerved from the road, striking Miss Howe, who was at the right side of the parked car. Mrs. Hester Prince, a Negro of East St. Louis, was held for perjury after she testified the party had been to no resort and had not drunk anything.

REED HOME-COMING DINNER

Kansas City to Pay Tribute to Missouri's Senior Senator.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, June 29. — A home-coming dinner in Convention Hall for Senator James A. Reed as a tribute in part to his fight against the World Court has been set for July 9 by friends of the Senator. Reed yesterday over the telephone accepted the invitation of George Kingsley, president of the Kansas City branch of the National Independence Union, to attend the dinner.

Preparations are being made to give the Senior Senator a demonstration without equal in the history of Missouri politics. The dinner is to be strictly nonpartisan. Many Republican and Democratic leaders alike have made reservation for places. Fifteen hundred persons are expected to attend. It will be on the arena floor of the big hall.

FRENCH AROUSED BY INVASION OF AMERICAN NEGRO TROUPEURS Envy Apparently at Bottom of the Protest and Not Prejudice Against Race.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 29.—French theatrical men are beginning to protest against the number of American Negroes on the French stage. France has been a country where the Negro's freedom is traditional, and the vogue of two American troupes has threatened this tradition for the first time.

"Negromania" is what a writer in the principal French theatrical journal calls the new stage fashion. But the writer protests that he writes from no "negrophobe" point of view. What he complained of was that it should be American Negroes who are making the profits from the vogue, when France has her own "splendid colonies and consequently her own splendid Negroes."

Envy seems, therefore, to be at the bottom of the protest, and not a new prejudice against the Negro in general.

CHINESE WAR CHIEFS MEET TO ESTABLISH GOVERNMENT Preponderance of Chang Tso-Lin's Troops in Peking Causes Fear of His Intentions.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. (Copyright 1926.)
PEKIN, June 29.—With Wu Pei-Fu's arrival in Peking for a conference with Chang Tso-Lin, China's war lord, finally appears as allies with the purpose of forming a stable central government. Wu Pei-Fu was greeted with military pomp and the traditional enemies exchanged ceremonial greetings for the first time in ten years, chatting informally for a quarter of an hour.

There seems to be some question whether the conference is not too belated to re-unify the country under a Government enjoying native and foreign confidence, because of the increased powers attained by various independent and semi-independent militarists who are likely to prove recalcitrant.

Further apprehension is caused by the pouring of thousands of more troops into the already soldier-ridden capital. The fact that Chang Tso-Lin's forces greatly outnumber Wu Pei-Fu's also causes fear that Chang intends to dictate the policy of the conference.

Pending the result of the conference the campaign is delayed against the Kuomintang (People's party), which meanwhile is reported to be greatly strengthening its position.

Fireman for 35 Years Dies.
By the Associated Press.
QUINCY, Ill., June 29.—Sam Sykes, 86 years old, veteran of the Civil War and for 35 years a member of the Quincy fire department died at the Soldiers' home last night. He was a native of Quincy and became a steamboat engineer during the war he enlisted in the army and served on the Kickapoo in the lower Mississippi. In 1867 he came to Quincy and aided in the construction of the river bridge. In 1873 became a member of the fire department as engineer, holding that position until retirement in 1913. He was a member of the great Chicago fire in 1887, when he worked 42 consecutive hours.

For Fathers and Mothers and Sons and Daughters The Player-Piano

EVERY musical enjoyment is realizable with a Player-Piano in the home. Without previous musical training any member of the family may most pleasingly play music the most difficult compositions may be played with ease.

Old favorites, almost unknown to this younger generation, may again be played and loved for melody and sentiment.

A new song may become the rage over night. Without bothering with an unfamiliar score, the music roll has it ready for instant playing.

Not to everyone is given the gift for quickly reading music. Hours of practice are sometimes necessary for many before perfecting fingering and rhythm.

To those, therefore, who cannot play and the many who do play, a Player-Piano, with its inexhaustible library of music rolls, is indeed a boon.

All Player-Pianos may be hand-played exactly as ordinary Pianos.

Zerozone Safeguards Health

Dr. J. B. Williams, Rochester, N.Y., stated before the American Medical Association, 1925:

"A refrigerator which is not kept at refrigeration temperature is a good incubator for bacteria. It furnishes food, humidity, darkness, and still air—just the conditions required for healthy bacterial growth."

With Zerozone, temperature remains always below the line of safety.

Right into the ice compartment of your present refrigerator goes Zerozone, and you have colder-than-ice refrigeration, every hour of the day and night, automatic and continuous.

SENATE TO SHELVE ALIEN FUND INQUIRY

Adjournment of Congress Will Postpone Possibility of New Scandal Until Election.

By CHARLES MICHELSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
WASHINGTON, June 29.—Adjournment of Congress will come in time to head off the threatened revelations of graft in the Alien Property Custodian's office, of which the American Metals Co. case that resulted in the indictment of former Attorney-General Daugherty and former Custodian Thomas Miller is supposed to be only a sample.

The Comptroller-General started an investigation of the bureau for President Coolidge more than a year ago and 60 people were engaged in this delving, but the report has never been finished, or if finished, never has been made public.

Some inkling of the methods of the bureau has been made available by the response of Howard Sutherland, the present Custodian, to the resolution introduced by Senator Morris of Nebraska calling for a list of salaries paid for other branches of the Government.

There are a number of people on the secret payroll, but there is no chance that the Morris resolution will be considered by the Senate before adjournment. It is desired to avoid a scandal before election.

Source of Payroll.
The secret payroll was met out of a so-called "administration fund" raised by an arbitrary assessment of 1 per cent on all German estates returned. The German residents were called on to pay the salaries of 50 clerks, stenographers, etc., alleged to have been assigned to the Civil Service Commission.

Thirty attorneys and clerks are alleged to have been employed by the Department of Justice in connection with alien property activities, which is ostensibly justifiable, but it is puzzling to see why the civil service examinations should be conducted at the expense of the German Nationals, and it is equally difficult to explain why they should have been called on to pay the salary of Mrs. Coolidge's social secretary, for nearly two years.

The civil service transfers are explained under a provision of the law which states that the commission may select a number of persons, not less than three in the official service of the United States, to be members of boards of examiners. On this excuse 50 persons, half of them girls or women, whose salaries range from $1000 to $1600 a year, are carried on the alien property payroll. Senator Norris says there is no warrant in law for this.

Daugherty's Letter.

The disbursements to the 30 employees of the Department of Justice are defended on the strength of a letter from Daugherty to Custodian Miller in which the Attorney General, under date of Jan. 1, 1922, authorized Miller to transfer to his payroll 10 persons of the Department of Justice force, whose aggregate salaries were $25,000. The list furnished the Senate by Custodian Sutherland shows 20 persons with an aggregate of about $10,000 a year.

In all there has been paid in four years at the expense of the German owners of the seized property about $300,000 for extraneous assistants.

Ultimately the effort is to be made to ascertain just what services were rendered by the employees whose names are on the list, but by that time the election will be over.

VETERANS' BILL PASSED BY SENATE GOES TO CONFERENCE

Extends Time for Establishing Disability and Liberalizes War Risk Insurance Rules.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The Senate yesterday passed and sent to conference the Veterans' Rehabilitation Bill liberalizing the conditions for reinstating lapsed war risk insurance policies and extending the benefits of vocational rehabilitation which expire today.

The measure was passed, reconsidered and passed again. Senator Glass (Dem.), Virginia, objecting to inclusion of a last-minute "rider" by Senator Deneen (Rep.) of Illinois, providing an adjustment amounting to $42,000 for the contractors of the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial Hospital at Broadview, Ill. The bill was approved later, without this amendment.

The Senate voted to retain several provisions regarding reinstatement of lapsed insurance policies which had been eliminated from the House draft by the Senate Finance Committee.

Senator Reed (Rep.) of Pennsylvania declared that they were unsound, but Senator Jones (Dem.) of New Mexico insisted that the provisions, which authorize reinstatement on a showing that disability due to war service had prevented payment of the premiums, were intended to benefit exactly the veterans for whom Congress had proposed the insurance.

The Senate adopted an amendment by Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, to extend until June 1, 1927, the period in which veterans who have no hospital record may establish disability originating during their war service.

An amendment by Senator Stock (Dem.) of Iowa, increasing the annual salary of the Director of the Veterans' Bureau from $10,000 to $12,000, was adopted.

FAIRMOUNT MEETING WILL NOT BE EXTENDED, BRUCE HEAD ANNOUNCES

MATCH RACES TO FEATURE FALL MEET, HE SAYS

"Will Especially Aim to Bring Together Some of Notable Stars of the Season," Official Promises.

By Dent McSkimming.

There will be no extension of the spring meeting of the Fairmount Jockey Club, it became known today when C. Bruce Head, general manager of the club issued a written statement explaining the policy of the organization. The meeting will close next Monday, July 5, after 32 days of racing.

Head emphasized in his statement the fact that the directors of the Kentucky Jockey Club tracks with which the local club is affiliated, are opposed to extended meetings as a matter of policy. It is intimated that a short spring meeting and a short fall meeting are sufficient for one community. The jockey club's statement follows:

"Horsemen and racing patrons have made numerous requests that the spring meeting be extended beyond our announced closing day, July 5. While we sincerely appreciate the motives that prompt these requests, we fail to see our way clear to grant them. The Fairmount Jockey Club and associate courses have a well-defined policy of not racing beyond announced periods and are strongly opposed to protracted meetings. The Fairmount Jockey Club management deems that a spring meeting of 29 to 35 days' racing is ample for this community, and one of similar length, or possibly less, in the fall should be satisfying and serve the best interest to racing and the community.

"We appreciate the motive that prompted the request for an extension of the sport at Fairmount, for it indicates that our efforts to provide high-class racing have met with full approval of our patrons, and it will serve as an incentive for us to reach out for the best that can be secured to furnish our patrons opportunity to witness the racing stars of the country in contests at Fairmount Park. We will especially aim to bring about a meeting during the fall period of racing of some of the more notable stars of this country in special events, contests that will rival the spectacular duel waged by Haste and Bagenbagg in the inaugural running of the Fairmount Derby.

"Our fall meeting dates will be announced later, and the duration of the meeting will not exceed 30 days, in accordance with our announced plans against continuous racing.

"The Fairmount Jockey Club management takes pleasure in thanking all who had a part in making the present meeting the huge success it has been."

DEMPSEY TO REST AT COLORADO SPRINGS BEFORE TRAINING GRIND

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 29.—Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, left today for two weeks' vacation at Colorado Springs. From there he said he planned to go East. The champion was accompanied by his wife, Estelle Taylor.

Hark, From the Tomb!

DISPATCHES to St. Louis today carried word of the death of J. W. Gillespie, who gained distinction in this vicinity 32 years ago by launching the great John L. Sullivan in a saloon enterprise at 604 Market street and later by using "Lord Barrington" as a similar "come-on."

This was the lowest ebb of John L.'s checkered career and two years before he finally started down the Billy Sunday highway, as an evangelist.

John L.'s "dumpy" on Market street was the twin of Tom Allen's famous "Champion's Rest," at 619 Market street. A nickel glass of beer gave the fifties of the streets the right to curl up on the sidewalk and sleep out the night, in either place.

The Mighty Are Fallen.

JOHN L. fell off the wagon shortly after his advent here as the chief curio of the Gillespie "flop house." John went on the theory that nothing the victor could buy was half as precious as the stuff he sold. So John went to drink it all rather than sell it.

Gillespie, disgusted, one day hauled John upstairs. This section of the establishment had a double-deck of canvas bunks where more of the riff-raff were harbored for a song. He shoved John L. into one of the bunks.

"Whatta yuh tryin' to do—make a bum outa me?" John L. roared in his leonine way.

"You're one already, you big stiff," Gillespie angrily told him, safe in the knowledge that John's mighty right was helpless.

And John was all that Gillespie said then.

It Paid. JOHN L.'s joint paid, for a time, during the World's Fair period.

An old advertising card carried by Sullivan bore the following legend:

I'M IN MISSOURI NOW—SHOW ME! John Lawrence Sullivan 12 Years' Champion of the World

Willing to Meet All Comers in as Many Rounds as They Care to Pay for at His Buffet, 604 Market Street.

John met all comers, but one of them knocked him out—John Barleycorn.

At last, however, John L. staggered to his feet, renewed the fight with his ancient curse, and won out at last, sober for many years before Death claimed him.

Pays to Be an Amateur. A NEWLY promulgated mandate of the Missouri Valley Tennis Association regulates the expense accounts of amateur players as follows:

EXPENSES ALLOWED. Hotel, reasonable rates. Meals, $4 a day. Railroad and Pullman fare. Meals on train or bus. Telephone calls (local). Incidentals to the amount of $1.50, subject to approval.

EXPENSES NOT ALLOWED. Cigarettes, cigars, playing cards, meals for friends, laundry, pressing and cleaning telegrams and long-distance phone calls.

For a bright young tennis player, even under these restrictions, life for some years at least can be made a year-round dream of ease and travel and no financial worries.

Under the valley's restricted "expenses," the tennis player may be invited from California to New York, to Florida, to Europe and an average expense account of $12 a day or more be allowed him.

It's a nice, easy way to see the world, at no cost.

In the meantime, Charley Hoff and Nurm, visiting athletes from Europe, had to pare out existence on a $7.50 basis, the maximum allowance of the A. A. U. for expenses.

Hoff, however, seems to have placed himself in a position to capitalize his amateurism by going into the movies and in other ways that make the fall from amateurism no more of a shock than the flop into a feather bed.

Lew Tindler Suspended. HARTFORD, Conn., June 29.—Lew Tindler, Philadelphia welterweight, was fined $200 and indefinitely suspended by Boxing Commissioner Thomas E. Donohue last night for violation of the seven-day rule. This provides that "no boxer shall be permitted to engage in a semi-final bout who has seven days previously participated in any bout."

Pittsburg Falter as Reds' Pitchers Round Into Form

John B. Foster Sees Cardinals as One of the Strongest National League Flag Factors and One Not Likely to Crack —Thinks Alexander Is Still Great Hurler.

By John B. Foster.

(Copyright, 1926.)

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Pittsburgh Pirates have done something that they didn't do last year, namely slip on the skids after they had started out on what looked like a forward march.

The Pirates by no means had things all their own way in 1925, but when they got the bow of their old junk headed for Pennant Harbor they kept their course and didn't tack and veer around once they had set out.

This season the Pirates show a distinct disinclination to hold to the course at the most important point in their race. The reason for it is the fighting they are getting in their own section. They were not battled last year in the way that Cincinnati and St. Louis are fighting into this season. The Reds' pitchers have been swinging into form, as Pittsburgh realizes, after being set down hard by Donohue and Rixey in the present series.

Moreover, the Pirates expect to find the Cubs one of the hardest outfits they will meet, when their next series comes along. Compared with what Chicago has done against other clubs, its showing against Pittsburgh is not so good and it hardly stands to reason that the Cubs are going to be so easy to defeat next time because they have been setting a faster pace.

Cards Considered Powerful. None of the Western teams looks upon St. Louis as likely to crack. The Cardinals appear to be getting too well-established. Some managers who earlier had counted Hornsby's team out of it are now conceding that it has a chance to win the pennant.

The Cardinals are unquestionably a championship factor in the National League and it is evident they are likely to pick up some additional victories through the acquisition of Grover Cleveland Alexander, the veteran Cub hurler.

As a pitcher he is just as good as when he began the season with the Cubs. Of course, the differences between him and the Cubs were not over pitching but over discipline. Alexander had been A. W. O. L. and he finally ran into a manager who would not stand for that sort of thing.

McCarthy Is Housecleaning. It is also true that a disposition existed on the Chicago club to get rid of all the players who had come by deal and trade because Manager McCarthy is a great hand to start housecleaning with a new broom. His best successes at Louisville sometimes were won with young and inexperienced players.

The trade that Chicago made with Pittsburgh never panned out well for the Cubs and it would have been better had they let Cooper, Grimm, et al. remain in Pittsburgh. The Pirates didn't get much out of it, either, except in Grantham, who seems to have been the only thoroughly reliable asset in the dicker.

MATEO Mah-tay-oh

A Stimulating Drink of Unusual Merit

A carbonated and sweetened beverage, prepared from the leaves of the Yerba Mate (Ilex Paraguariensis), a wonderful herb of South America, and flavored with ginger.

Gives Pep, Vigor and Endurance

Mateo has been used for centuries by the South American natives and our own Southern Indians as a wonderful stimulant and restorative.

Rev. Dr. Zahn, C.S.C., Ph. D., companion to the late Col. Roosevelt through South America, writes: "It is the most invigorating beverage imaginable. Where Mateo is used, drunkenness is practically unknown. Give a native Mateo and he will run or work all day with no other food."

"In the southeastern republics it is a much prized article of luxury, and is the first thing offered to visitors."—Encyclopaedia Britannica.

no doubt about it, P. A. is great makin's

THE instant you open a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of Prince Albert and get a whiff of that real tobacco, you know you are in for some grand cigarette-sessions. Yes, indeed. You take out a makin's paper and proceed to roll a cigarette that's a sure-fire winner.

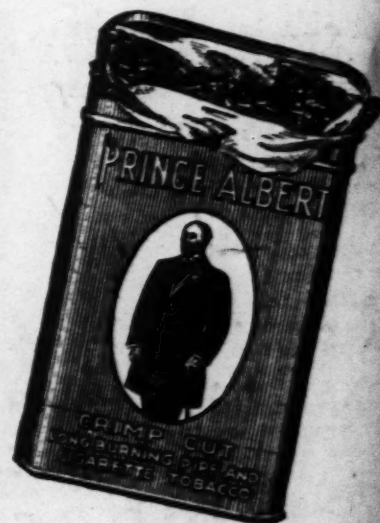

Because P. A. is crimp-cut and doesn't flutter all around, it rolls easier. It burns better for the same reason. And then the big thrill . . . that glorious taste! No other home-rolled cigarette can hold a candle to that. Cool. Sweet. Fragrant. Every inch a smoke!

PRINCE ALBERT

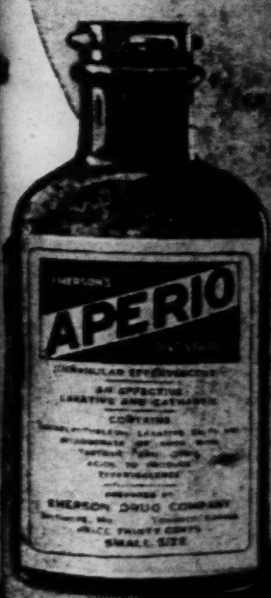

—no other tobacco is like it!

Morning to midnight, you'll roll 'em and smoke 'em. Because every wonderful puff invites another. Your taste just never wearies of this mild, mellow tobacco—good old P. A. Try this better cigarette tobacco today. It will be a smoke-experience, for a fact.

If you have a pipe and want to see how much pleasure it can deliver, tamp a load of Prince Albert into the bowl. Men who thought they were all set on a smoke-program have followed this formula and have become converts overnight. No other tobacco is like this, Men.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

MEXICO GIVES LANDS BACK TO YAQUI INDIANS

Tribe Took Warpath When Despoiled of Territory by Diaz.

By the Associated Press. June 29.—A problem confronting Mexico for the last 20 years, growing out of the central government's treatment of the Yaqui Indians in the state of Sonora, is in the process of being solved. Many years ago the Yaquis, an ordinarily peaceful and industrious tribe, lost their rich lands. Some of their acreage was given to large land concerns by concession. Other land was taken over by the government because the Indians were allowing it to lie idle. Then the tribe went on the warpath, withdrawing far into the Bacatote mountains. They became known as treacherous, ferocious and merciless in the torture of their victims.

Diaz, then president, exiled many, killed off others and scattered the bands. This increased their hatred of the Mexican government. While the passing of Diaz came a calm, but not until Gen. Obregon became president did the Indians become pacified. They returned to their lands and worked them with the financial assistance of the government.

Since then the Yaqui has been peaceful. He has been sowing and caring for his lands and developing into a first-class citizen.

Now Mexico is turning its attention to the problem of compensation, but this time not in the spirit of conquest. The government, through the secretary of the treasury, is to help the Yaqui acquire the acreages settled on both by Mexican and foreigner. The central government's plan calls for an order of payment on lands actually acquired or their return. In either case, the Yaqui will be compensated. Lands taken by the government would be returned to the tribe with only one provision—that they be worked.

ASSAULT UPSTOWN'S DRY TALK

New York Congressman Wants Wet Trail to White House.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 29.—Taking issue with Representative Upshaw (Dem., Cal.), of Georgia, in his advocacy of a dry plank in the 1928 Democratic platform, Representative Boylan, a New York Democrat, questioned in the House Upshaw's "right to assume the spokesmanship" of the party.

Boylan said he could not agree that the Democratic donkey should "pursue a dusty, dry trail to the White House meadows," and added: "I ask the Democratic party to pursue the sane temperate course. When they do, the donkey will again thrive, the dew off the White House lawn—the more sustaining, perhaps, because the grass is a little wet."

To Fight Oklahoma Election Case.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., June 29.—Gov. M. E. Trapp is seeking a way to continue his campaign for renomination notwithstanding the State Supreme Court's decision yesterday that he is ineligible under the Constitutional provision that a Governor may not immediately succeed himself in office. A conference of the impressive array of counsel which contested unsuccessfully for Trapp in the courts was summoned here and the executive announced that he would await the advice of his attorneys.

PLAN TO SHOOT MUSSOLINI ADMITTED BY FORMER DEPUTY

Italian Attorney-General Admits Plot to Kill Dictator.

ROME, June 29.—Tito Zaniboni, former Socialist Deputy, has confessed that he planned to shoot Premier Mussolini, according to a report on the Attorney-General's investigation of the case, made public today. Zaniboni was arrested in October, armed with a rifle, in a hotel room overlooking the balcony of the Chigi Palace from which the Premier was to deliver an address.

The report says Zaniboni admitted carrying out anti-Fascist activities, which he characterized as defensive rather than offensive, and finally decided to take decisive action with the aid of a few persons. When the time came, however, Zaniboni insisted that he be permitted to act alone, thus assuming sole responsibility.

ARCHDUCHESS SUES FOR PIANO

Won't Pay Sum Demanded by Man Who Saved It From Rebels.

By the Associated Press. VIENNA, June 29.—To recover her grand piano, the Archduchess Immaculata Hapsburg-Lothringen, a daughter of the Archduke Leopold Salvator, has been fighting her quondam music teacher, Prof. Rudolph Henke, in the Austrian law courts.

In the revolution when the noble family was forced to flee, the Archduchess entrusted her highly cherished piano to Prof. Henke for safe-keeping. The latter fearing to displease the revolutionary party and jeopardize his position sold his own instrument and passed off that of the Archduchess as his property. When she claimed her piano, Prof. Henke asked her for money enough to replace his own. The Archduchess offered him 20,000 crowns which he did not consider sufficient and after a long correspondence the case went into court.

STEEL STOCK REACHES 41 ON CHANGE

Advance to New High Mark Made in Face of Stiff Money Rates—Other Industrials Rise—Trade Volume Increases.

By Leased Wire from The New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Evening financial review today says:

"Operations for the first week were resumed with some degree of vigor in leading industrial favorites on the stock market today. Standard rail shares were in good demand. The volume of business expanded somewhat, with the advance in steel stock being the most prominent feature. An advance of 1,300,000 shares. An advance of U. S. Steel common to the highest level of record was the outstanding feature and a gradual upturn throughout the list was recorded in the face of a continuance of high money rates. Call loans held at 5 per cent. The bond market was quiet. The market for foreign exchange for funds, prices reflecting expectations of large reinvestment of funds later in the week. Government loan issues, held steady while foreign bonds were in demand. Some of the transit securities were slightly lower in quiet trading.

"With market sentiment again more cheerful, interest among traders again centered on the so-called 'Morgan stocks,' United States Steel common, the dominant common stock of the industrial railroad shares. The junior steel issue sold at the highest record in history in a rise of 3 points, based not so much on the dividend as on reports of a gradual improvement in the industry as on prospects of favorable developments of some kind. The dividend meeting of directors next month, General Motors sold about 4 points higher, almost reaching the record high figure recorded last autumn. Atlantic Coast Line, held steady. Nashville, Chesapeake & Ohio, Nickel Plate and stocks of other carriers expected to benefit from projected mergers or from an expansion of freight loadings when new cars are moved were again in good demand. Many favorites advanced to their highest levels of the year.

Steady Underdone.

"Although bidding for the general run of stock was nothing unusual and wide advances were rare, a generally steady undertone prevailed and traders showed little disposition to speculate for the decline in the face of the extraordinary strength in steel. Sloss-Sheffield Iron advanced sharply, while Cast Iron Pipe jumped about 5 points, while Fisher Body and Duntz reported advances in sympathy with upturn in General Motors. Gulf Steel advanced also came to a point with a rise of more than 4 points. In the main, however, movements were limited to a point or two. Woolworth, Montgomery Ward, Mark Trucks, Baldwin, Coca Cola and American Sugar, all being among the favorites which recorded fair advances. General Electric, Commercial Solvents issues and some of the oil shares improved in position while Davidson Chemical continued its steady rise.

Sterling at New Peak.

"Renewed buying of sterling provided the only feature of quiet trading in foreign exchanges. Rates on London advanced to $14.84, the highest quotation since August, 1914, when the pound rose to above $15 for a short time. Elsewhere in the list fluctuations were relatively small and irregular and the volume of business was restricted by observance of the religious holiday in Latin countries. French francs sagged, while Italian rates eased off slightly. Spanish gold exchange worked about 7 points higher and then slipped back.

Commodities Irregular.

"Commodity prices moved irregularly, weakness of cotton being the chief feature. Support was disappointing all through the session and the decline in cotton advanced to 1914, when the pound rose to above $15 for a short time. Elsewhere in the list fluctuations were relatively small and irregular and the volume of business was restricted by observance of the religious holiday in Latin countries. French francs sagged, while Italian rates eased off slightly. Spanish gold exchange worked about 7 points higher and then slipped back.

Proceeds from the sale of the $4,000,000 would be used to reimburse the road for expenditures, to provide for future expenditures and to redeem on Sept. 1, $2,400,000 of 6 per cent notes.

60 PERSONS BECOME ILL AFTER HIGH SCHOOL DINNER

Weymouth, Mass., June 23.—Nearly half of the 126 students and teachers of the Weymouth High School, who attended the graduation dinner last Thursday, are ill.

Thirty-five cases have been diagnosed as scarlet fever and 25 more as ptomaine poisoning. Dr. Geo. O'Donnell, of the State Board of Health, made the diagnosis of scarlet fever.

First indication that everything was not right came Friday when several of those who had eaten complained of illness.

Where Performance alone is considered

Anyone who can afford to own a home can afford Kleen-Heet.

It is, then, especially significant that in homes whose wealth permits them to enjoy the absolute best of everything—homes where performance alone determines the method of heating—the leadership of Kleen-Heet is so marked.

Take Lake Forest for example—world-known for its magnificent estates—and the list of Kleen-Heet owners and the Social Register are almost interchangeable.

The result, of course, of the recognized superiority of Kleen-Heet engineering.

A superiority revealed through six years of unflinching performance—in homes of every size—and in every type of heating plant. Revealed, too, under every test of climate and season.

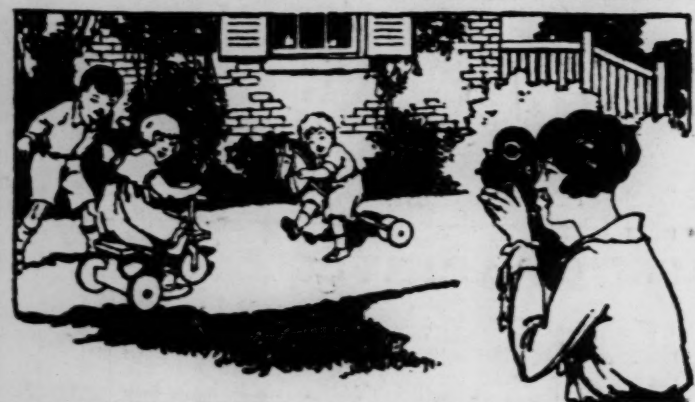

To have a trained engineer study the suitability of your heating plant for oil burning, telephone

Three Reasons Why This Mother Has a MOTION PICTURE CAMERA

THIS proud mother intends to keep with her always in living, moving pictures the memory of her children just as they are today. In years to come these pictures will be priceless treasures to Mother and Dad.

Make Your Own Movies

Living picture-memories; movies of memorable events and scenes, records of your vacations, travels and sports are now made as easily and almost as economically as snapshots. The resulting pictures are of the same quality as those seen in the better theaters. A projector that a child can operate shows the brilliantly illuminated movies on a screen erected in your home. Exposed films developed and returned to you free.

$25 Up

We carry in stock the Pathex and Cine-Kodak as well as the famous Bell and Howell Filmo—offering a price range from $25 up for reliable motion picture cameras. A free demonstration—without any obligation on your part—will be given on any of this equipment.
